FRENCH ARE ADVANCING LIKE HAPPY SAND BOYS.

"They're Fighting Like Demons; It is Magnificent; All Heroes."

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Aug. 21.—Counter-attacks of the most extreme violence by the Germans on the Verdun front, following the brilliant French successes of yesterday, have been repulsed. Everywhere the French are holding their gains and consolidating their lines, despite the frantic efforts of the enemy to dislodge them.

Henri Vidal, the Matin correspondent, describes the enthusiasm among the staff of Gen. Guillaumat's headquarters. As he arrived he found a general at the door. He said:

"Great news, friends. The men everywhere are advancing happy as sand boys."

Another general arrived, covered with mud, but radiantly happy.

"My poilus are the men of Midi," he said. "They are fighting like demons. It is magnificent. They are all heroes."

In addition to checking all German counter-attacks today the French captured several important points along the Meuse, including the villages of Regneville. They have occupied Samogneux and linked up a series of captured trenches with Hill No. 344, taken in yesterday's offensive.

From Verdun the focus of the French observers was changed today to Lens, where the Canadians are locked in a hand-to-hand battle with the Germans for possession of the mining city. Fighting there is described as of the most sanguinary character, with the British forces slowly but certainly driving the enemy back north and northwest of Lens.

ON AISNE FRONT.

On the Aisne front there was great activity today, a big gun battle being in progress near Cerny and Hurtebise. The Germans were reported to be showing much nervousness along the entire front, battles at many places causing them tremendous losses and bewildering them.

On the Verdun front, where the French are taking stock today of one of the most important successes of the war, the German attacks are being directed at positions in the vicinity of Avocourt Wood and north of Caurieres Wood. While Paris is jubilant about the victory, the Figaro warns the people against expecting too much, saying: "Experience has shown that it is vain to hope to pierce a front which incessantly closes after the breach has been made. At Verdun, as in Flanders, the object is to strike the enemy the most powerful blow possible and

PROVIDES FOR OPENING OF COAST OIL LANDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 21.—Providing for the opening up to development of hundreds of thousands of acres of proved oil-bearing lands withdrawn from entry by the famous Taft order, the oil bill agreed on by all the Senators interested, save two, was reported to the Senate today.

A minority report will be filed by Senator Husting of Wisconsin, which will probably be signed also by Senator Norris of Nebraska.

It is estimated that the opening of these oil lands will increase the country's oil production not less than 15 per cent., which means not only an increase of that amount of fuel oil for the navy and for commercial purposes, but a like increase in the production of gasoline. It is declared by Senators that the passage of this measure will postpone indefinitely any proposal to restrict the use of gasoline for pleasure cars.

INCLUDES NAVY RESERVE.

It is also declared that the opening of these oil lands, which include the famous Naval oil reserve in California, known as No. 2, will solve the British navy's oil problem, said to be acute. Senator Husting said today his minority report would favor retaining this No. 2 reserve in California as a naval reserve for twenty to twenty-five years.

"It is contended that owing to the fact that there are several hundred wells now producing oil from that reserve, that before twenty years should elapse, certainly all the gas would be blown off and that the oil supply itself might be seriously depleted. Do you believe that incorrect?" Mr. Husting was asked.

"I don't take issue with that," said Mr. Husting, "but my substitute which I will offer for the committee bill will contain a provision that the Secretary of Navy shall buy off the operators who have entered on this reserve, where they have cases that will hold water, and thus retain the field untouched."

FOR A ROYALTY.

The oil bill as agreed upon provides that a royalty of one-eighth of all oil produced on the lands opened up shall be paid to the Federal government. The oil on which a royalty must be paid not only includes all oil to be produced in future, but also all oil produced from these reservations from the original date of entry. This is aimed at these producers who have been operating wells on the reservations.

The bill gives preference, in making the leases, to those oil operators who have discovered oil on the lands and have developed in good faith, and also those who desisted from operating at the time of the Taft withdrawal order and because of that order only.

A protective clause inserted at the demand of navy's oil experts and is directed against those who have insisted on operating despite the navy's efforts to make the field a reserve, reads as follows:

"That no claimant who has been guilty of fraud in the location of any oil claim or gas-bearing lands shall be entitled to any of the benefits of this section, nor shall his assignees be entitled thereto unless he affirmatively shows that prior to the passage of this act he purchased such lands in good faith for a variable consideration and without actual knowledge of such fraud."

FRENCH CARRY SYSTEM OF FORTIFIED TRENCHES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Aug. 21.—The battle of Verdun has not yet ceased, and on the left bank of the Meuse the French troops have captured several important points, including the village of Regneuville. On the right bank the French have occupied Samogneux and carried a system of fortified trenches which links this place up with Hill No. 344.

The official report from the War Office, announcing the successes, says that all German counter-attacks have been repulsed.

THE STATEMENT.

The text of the statement reads:

"The two artilleries were quite active in the region north of Vauxaillon and on the Cerny and Craonne plateaux.

"In Champagne, our fires of destruction against the German organizations in the sector of St. Hilaire caused an explosion in gas reservoirs. Our reconnoitering parties found soon after the enemy trenches were evacuated that they were filled with dead.

"On the Verdun front, the battle continued today at several points and developed everywhere to our advantage. On the left bank of the Meuse, our troops captured Cote de L'Oie, which we occupied in its entirety, as well as the village of Regneuville.

"On the right bank in the course of a brilliant attack, we took Samogneux and a whole system of fortified trenches, which connects this village with the organizations on Hill No. 344. German counter-attacks were repulsed. We took addi-

CANADIANS ABOUT LENS LAUNCH A NEW ATTACK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—A dispatch from the correspondent of Reuter's Limited at British headquarters, received at the Ottawa agency today, says:

"Canadian troops around Lens launched another attack, converging upon the western environments of the town, at half past 4 o'clock this morning.

Dawn broke with a thick haze and when the infantry went over the top they saw masses of shadowy gray figures advancing toward them. It was actually the fact that the Germans had planned an attack to be delivered at the identical moment of our own, and what is probably one of the most desperate hand-to-hand battles of the war ensued.

"In the words of an eyewitness, the 'Germans fought like cornered rats' in the shell-torn, wire-incumbered zone of No Man's Land, bomb and bayonet being the principal weapons. Gradually the Canadians beat back the Germans and about fifteen minutes after the clash came the enemy were making their last stand upon the parapet of their trenches.

"Then they retreated as rapidly as possible into the ruins of Lens, and almost immediately after a furious machine-gun fire began to rattle forth. The latest news is that the fighting is still in progress.

"A good many prisoners, of which a large proportion consists of wounded, have been brought in."

AUSTRIA MAY ACCEPT POPE'S PLAN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 21.—A telegram from the official Corr Bureau of Vienna seems to indicate that Austria-Hungary will accept the Pope's peace proposals. A summary of Austro-Hungarian press opinion circulated by the Corr Bureau says:

"Newspapers regard the concrete proposals in the peace methods as a suitable basis for beginning peace negotiations, but doubt whether the Entente shares this hope."

In view of the well-known practices of the Corr Bureau in preparing such summaries, this may undoubtedly be regarded as the government's voice. The bureau then ingenuously suggests that when the Pope referred to territorial questions between Austria and Italy he could not have had Austrian soil in mind, because the alienation thereof is not to be discussed.

CHARITABLE BEQUEST TO LOS ANGELES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] (30)

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Aug. 21.—Almost the entire estate of Abraham Slimmer of St. Paul, who died several days ago at Dubuque, Iowa, has been left to charity. His will was filed here Wednesday. The estate is valued at $500,000. The largest part of the estate goes to the Jewish Hospital Association of Milwaukee, Wis. This institution will receive more than $300,000. Mr. Slimmer bequeathed to Joseph F. Grawe of Waverly, Iowa, editor of the Bremer County Independent, $3000 because he conducted his paper honestly.

The Jewish Consumptive Relief Association of Los Angeles, Cal., receives $20,000. Several other institutions of this character in various cities were bequeathed similar amounts.

MAY AVERT BRITISH STRIKE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—An understanding has been reached between the government and the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, who have been threatening a general strike of railway men. The society had demanded the adoption of an eight-hour day, but a delegation that visited Sir Albert Stanley, president of the Board of Trade, was informed on Sunday that the government would discuss the question of an eight-hour day only when the war was ended.

Later, however, the two sides entered into further negotiations and it was believed yesterday that a way would be found to reach an agreement.

STRIKE IN PHILADELPHIA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—Several hundred boilermakers and helpers employed in seven shipbuilding plants along the Delaware River front went on strike today for increase in pay and shorter hours. The journeymen now receive 45 cents an hour and their helpers 32 cents. They demand 50 and 37½ cents respectively.

Robert A. Rutherford, manager of the John Baizley Ironworks, one of the largest plants affected, declared German propagandists were responsible for the walkout.

Sugano. Secretary Lansing and Assistant Secretary Phillips of the State Department will greet the visitors at the railroad station.

The mission landed at San Francisco recently and came on a special train across the continent. On arriving here they will be escorted by cavalry to the home of Harry Belmont, which has been placed at their disposal.

GERMAN LOSSES AT LENS DUPLICATED AT VERDUN.

Italians Smash Austrians on Isonzo; Russians Hold Their Own.

IN ITS review of the war dispatches for the past twenty-four hours the Associated Press says:

Hard smashes at the German lines in France again have been productive of important gains for the Entente Allies. North of Verdun the French have captured additional points of vantage, while the Canadians have fought their way forward nearer to the heart of the town of Lens, taking 2000 yards of positions west and northwest of the town.

All the counter-attacks by the German Crown Prince's forces against Gen. Petain's men on the newly-captured ground in the Verdun sector have been ill-starred; those of Crown Prince Rupprecht against the doughty Canadians at last accounts had brought nothing more than an augmentation of the already terrible casualties his troops have suffered in their attempts to save the important coal center from capture.

IN CANOPY OF MIST.

Under a canopy of mist the Canadians and Germans met at daylight in the open of No Man's Land, northwest of Lens, neither expecting the other. Springing at their foe with their usual intrepidity, the Canadians put the Germans to the bayonet and forced them to scurry for a seeming haven of safety inside their trenches. Here, however, the Germans apparently were no more secure than in the open, for again with the bayonet and with bombs, the Canadians did great execution, killing or wounding many of the opponents and putting the others to flight.

West of Lens, aided by a heavy artillery fire, the Canadians also advanced, pushing the Germans further into the environs of the town. To both the captured positions the Canadians are holding tenaciously, already having put down with heavy losses three strong counter-attacks—two on the northwest and one west of the town.

NORTH OF VERDUN.

North of Verdun, on both sides of the River Meuse, the French troops have kept up their vigorous offensive started Monday and have been rewarded by the capture of additional important positions. West of the river, Cote l'Oie, a point of considerable strategic value, and the village of Regneville have been taken, while east of the stream the village of Samogneux and fortified trenches over a front of about a mile and a half, connecting Samogneux with the defenses on Hill 344, are in the hands of Gen. Petain's men.

Counter-attacks by the Germans all along the new front have been repulsed by the French.

In addition to more than 5000 prisoners taken by the French in Monday's advance, additional captures resulted from the attacks of Tuesday.

The German War Office, possibly with the idea of heartening the people at home, says counter-attacks by the Germans have driven out the French from almost all the positions they captured on the Verdun front. It adds that the German troops and their leaders anticipate a favorable conclusion of the Verdun battle.

ITALIAN DRIVE.

In the Austro-Italian theater the terrific drive of the Italians is causing the Austrian line to crack at numerous points. The Austrians are resisting vigorously. The battle is proceeding without interruption. Austrian defenses between Corito and Selo and near the strongly-fortified Stadlokva position are among the places captured. Up to Monday night more than 10,000 prisoners have been taken, not counting 243 officers.

The Russians in Galicia and Bukovina are apparently holding their own against the Austrians and Germans, but in Rumania the Russians and Rumanians have been compelled to cede further ground near the village of Oena and east of the Fokshani-Naracona-Ajud Railway.

The intensive aerial fighting between the Allies and the Germans in France continues. Numerous German machines have been brought down in aerial battles, but the Entente Allies also have lost a considerable number of machines. British warships have destroyed a German Zeppelin off the coast of Denmark, the entire crew perishing.

With Bomb and Bayonet.

CANADIANS ROUT GERMANS IN NO MAN'S LAND OF LENS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Aug. 21.—The fierce battle which began at dawn today on the outskirts of the city of Lens continued throughout the day at close quarters and late this afternoon there was no diminution in the intensity of the struggle between the attacking Canadians and the German.

The Canadians this morning fought their way forward with bombs and bayonets and occupied important enemy defenses northwest and southwest of the heart of the city and since then the Germans have been sending in wave after wave of infantry in desperate counter attacks.

The Canadians have held strongly and the Germans have suffered very heavy casualties, as they must have expected, from the nature of their counter thrusts, in which no thought is given to the cost in life.

SURPRISES EACH OTHER.

The striking feature of the battle lies in the fact that the Germans also had massed troops for a counter-attack at dawn against the newly acquired Canadian positions in the northwest environs of Lens and had actually started their advance, when they were surprised by encountering the onrushing Canadians in No Man's Land. Both advances had begun at the same hour, but a heavy mist hung over the ground and the Germans were apparently unaware of the Canadian preparations until the Canadians were upon them with the bayonet.

Brief but bitter fighting occurred in No Man's Land. The German officers tried to rally their men against the Canadians but the enemy infantry gradually fell back to the trenches which they had just left. The Canadians followed and, leaping upon the parapets, hurled masses of bombs down among great numbers of troops which had been collected for the attack. The Germans tried to flee through the communicating trenches, but the Canadians jumped among them with bayonets and bombs, killing many.

LINE A SEETHING CALDRON.

On the southwest the Canadians were equally successful after very heavy fighting in which the British artillery was brought into play. The most strenuous fighting late in the day was proceeding in the center of the line west of Lens and on a little front near the left of the northwest positions but the whole line was a seething caldron. The Canadians have achieved

CANADIANS AT LENS WIN TWO THOUSAND YARDS.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Two thousand yards of German positions west and northwest of Lens have been captured by the Canadian forces in a drive started early today, says the British official communication issued this evening. Heavy fighting is still going on in the region of the coal city, with the Canadians having the upper hand. Three counter-attacks by the Germans met with repulse.

The communication follows:

"Early this morning we attacked the line of German trenches which skirts Lens to the west and northwest and captured the enemy's positions on a front of 2000 yards.

"Heavy fighting has taken place and still continues.

"At mid-day two strong counter-attacks northwest of Lens were beaten off by our troops and a third counter-attack south of the town was broken up by our artillery.

"We have captured a number of prisoners."

The Pope is Likely to Continue Efforts for Peace if Powers Reject His First Note

Mediation.

EFFORTS OF VATICAN FAVORED BY GERMANY.

American Forces May Go to the Front When Wilson Delivers Note.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 21.—Opinion here being satisfied that all nations at war with Germany will reject Pope Benedict's peace proposal, even the grounds of rejection being generally appreciated, interest today attached to the probable developments immediately following the closing of the incident when the formal replies of all the belligerents shall have been dispatched to the Vatican.

There is a disposition in some quarters to believe that the Pope will not abandon his effort to bring the belligerents to terms with the receipt of the notes from the powers at war, but that he will seize upon whatever opportunity the documents afford him of continuing the discussion. His action is known to have sympathy of neutral countries that desire the restoration of peace, and profess not to be greatly concerned, as a matter not affecting them, by the conditions. It is believed also this will please the Central Powers and their Allies.

Germany, with a new Imperial Chancellor, to whom attaches none of the responsibility for the many miscarriages of Teutonic diplomacy since the war began, is expected, with the backing of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey, to encourage the Vatican to continue its efforts, accepting, with reservations, the Pontiff's plan for ending the conflict.

ATTITUDE OF GERMANY.

Careful observers of the situation here assert that Germany, realizing now the limits of the extension of the Alliance against her, expecting no new enemies she elects to force more neutrals into the war, and having a new voice as Chancellor, will nevertheless maintain her former policy, but in a different guise. Chancellor Michaelis is expected to assign responsibility for the war to Germany's enemies, just as Von Bethmann Hellweg did, and to declare Germany's readiness to negotiate peace, but to make the conditions so vague as to be meaningless.

Despite tremendous pressure now being brought to bear upon Germany and Austria by Franco-British and Italian armies, military men here assert that the German government, because of the collapse of Russia's military power and because of the necessary slowness in preparing America for a major part in the war, may well be able to deceive the German people and to make them believe that, even with the losses on the west, Germany's fortunes in the field are still in the ascendant.

Military men have been studying with particular care the operations on the Franco-British lines and withhold opinion until there is data concerning the British and French losses.

That the reply of the United States to the Pope will be coincident with entry of the American forces in France into the actual fighting is regarded as a distinct possibility.

OPINION OF EXPERT.

"It would be rather like an exclamation point to the note," an observer remarked today. All that is known here of the time the Americans may take a position on the front is a recent intimation from France that it will be soon. It has been stated at the War Department that the American forces may even take up a position without the previous knowledge of officers here as to the precise time, indicating that Gen. Pershing has discretion in this respect.

There is no necessity for the United States to send an acknowledgment of the receipt of the Pope's note, as has been done in the case of England, inasmuch as this government received it through the medium of the British Foreign Office. It was incumbent upon Britain to inform the Vatican that its communication had been delivered to all countries to whom England was asked to forward it.

It was reasserted at the State Department that there would be an interchange of views among the countries at war with Germany before answers are dispatched to the Pope. Whether the United States or the Allies will reply first, however, is not known. There is a general feeling here that America ought not to trail behind any country in stating its position, and it is regarded as not unlikely that America's note will be the first to be forwarded, although one argument against this course was thought to be the greater effect President Wilson's communication would have were it to be the last word, rather than the first.

Scent.

FEAR BRITISH INTRIGUE IN THE POPE'S PROPOSAL.

German Public Inclined to be Suspicious as to the Origin of Note from the Vatican — Public Believes it may Conceal a Trap for Victorious Kaiser and His People.

BY CYRIL BROWN.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 21.—The ordinary German citizen is growing suspicious now and begins to scent English intrigue in the Pope's peace proposal. Not only the Pan-Germans, who will have none of the Pope's proposition, but many other Germans have a notion that the peace platform is an English trap set for the victorious Kaiser and his people.

Their idea is based on the fact that the British Minister at the Vatican received and transmitted the Pope's proposal. So this has led to the conclusion that, before sending his peace note, the Pope must have assured himself of the Entente government's approval and that the text of the note is not free of English influence.

GERMAN PRESS WARNING.

The German press is beginning to warn its readers not to jump to the conclusion that the Pope's action can possibly be the result of German intrigue and the Vossische Zeitung, among others, elaborates the English intrigue theory, asserting that "there can be no doubt that England would conclude a peace on the Pope's terms."

One of the most suggestive developments from the Pope's proposal is its varied reception among Germany's allies. The Hungarians in general hail it with joy and complete satisfaction. Both official and unofficial Hungarians have long made no pretense of hiding their real feelings. Hungary's war aim is peace as soon as possible. Hungary wants no annexations; its sole condition being the preservation of the present Hungarian territorial integrity. Hungary can, consequently, accept the Pope's proposal in full as the basis of peace negotiations.

Not so, Austria. According to authoritative information reaching Ira Nelson Morris, the American Minister here, the Pope's concrete proposals by no means met the Austrians' wishes and some features may be characterized as absolutely unacceptable, such, for instance, as the implied plebiscite by the Italian-speaking provinces of Austria to determine for themselves their future fate. Although the influence upon the Vatican proceeded initially from the Austrian court, the concrete results were unexpected and disconcerting to Vienna.

NO HINT BY AUSTRIA.

It may be stated with certainty that Austria never hinted to the Pope its willingness to put the decision of the fate of its Italian-speaking provinces to a popular vote.

While the Pope's proposal is thus calculated to create a deep split between Hungarian and Austrian public opinion, its effect on Bulgaria is almost equally important. Bulgaria latterly is waxing more and more suspicious and is furtively watching the Teuton peace propaganda as it may affect Bulgarian aspirations. Well knowing the double source of inspiration back of the Pope's proposals, over-suspicious Bulgaria scents a plot to cheat it out of the fruits of victory, to dissipate its "Greater Bulgaria" dream.

ENGLAND WILL EXAMINE POPE'S NOTE SERIOUSLY.

Reply of British Government to Vatican Peace Proposals Handed Papal Secretary of State — Hope Expressed by Cardinal Gasparri that Belligerents will Approve Four Fundamental Propositions.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Aug. 21.—The reply of the British government to the peace notes of Pope Benedict was handed to Cardinal Gasparri, the Papal Secretary of State, by the British Minister Monday. The reply says the Pope's note will be examined in a benevolent and serious spirit.

Cardinal Gasparri expressed to the British Minister the hope that the belligerents would give approval to four fundamental propositions in the Papal note, similar ideas having already been set forth by responsible ministers of Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany and Austria, while President Wilson's peace message, in the opinion of the Cardinal, implied almost the whole of the Pope's programme.

It having been asserted in the press that the Pope was urged to work for peace by Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary, the Vatican states that the Pontiff has no personal acquaintance with the Empress and has never received any communication from her on any subject. [It has been reported on several occasions that the Austrian Empress, who was born in the Italian province of Lucca, has been working assiduously for peace.]

IN THE VOSGES.

"In the Vosges an enemy surprise attack against our small posts at Hartmanns Weilerkopf were without result.

"Belgian communication: The activity of both artilleries somewhat decreased. Our aviators carried out numerous flights. It is confirmed that two enemy airplanes were brought down within their own lines, one on August 18 at Gheruvelt, the other on the 16th near Pervyse. Yesterday and today German aviators were very active. They make about 200 flights daily."

WELCOMED BY FRENCH.

Yesterday's victory of the French on the Verdun front was welcomed by the French people, not only because after it the Germans no longer hold one of their dearly bought conquests won since the first onrush on the Verdun fortress in February, 1916, but as proof that the unity of action among the Entente Allies is at work.

The British, Italian and French fronts are all active at the same time, making it possible that weakness may develop somewhere along the German and Austrian lines confronting them. The Figaro, however, warns its readers against expecting too much.

"Experience has shown," the Figaro says, "that it is vain to hope to pierce a front which incessantly closes after the breach has been made. At Verdun, as in Flanders, the object is to strike the enemy the most powerful blow possible and then to await an opportunity to strike again. It is not the territory rewon that counts, but the losses inflicted."

BERLIN STATEMENT.

BERLIN, Aug. 21 (via London.)—The battle before Verdun has not yet ended, the German General Headquarters Staff announced today. This morning fresh engagements developed at various places. The statement adds:

"Our troops and leaders anticipate a favorable conclusion of the battle."

In many places colored and white French troops penetrated the German defensive zone in which every step forward, the German report says, had to be wrested at the cost of sanguinary losses. In bitter hand-to-hand fighting, and by counter-attacks, the French were driven back almost everywhere.

The announcement says that the mighty Verdun struggle swayed to and fro during the whole day. West of the Meuse only Dead Man Hill and the southern fringe of Raven wood remained in the hands of the French. East of the river on Hill 344, southwest of Samogneux and in Fosse wood, the French won a little ground. Against the small local success of the French, the announcement adds, must be set the failure of their attack on a front of twenty kilometers (twelve and a half miles.)

The text of the statement reads:

"Western theater: Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht: Apart from a temporarily strong and destructive fire in some sectors of Flanders and on the Arras front, there have been no fighting operations on a large scale.

"Army group of the German Crown Prince: The first day of the battle before Verdun had the same result for the French as the great English attacks in Flanders had for the English on July 31 and August 16. Superiority in material and reckless use of men could not break the German fighting forge. Against a small local success must be set the failure of the attack on a front of over twenty kilometers.

"Powerful artillery preparations for the great thrust which the French army was to conduct at England's command began August 11. From Avocourt wood to the eastern fringe of Cumieres wood our positions were turned into a wide and desolate crater field by the enemy's artillery firing, which increased to the most extreme intensity for a few hours before the attack early yesterday morning of the French infantry.

"In many places French troops penetrated our defensive zone, in which every step forward had to be wrested from our troops with sanguinary losses. Bitter hand-to-hand fighting and powerful counter-attacks drove back the enemy almost everywhere. The mighty struggle swayed to and fro throughout the whole day.

WEST OF THE MEUSE.

"On the western bank of the Meuse only the heights of Le Mort Homme and the southern fringe of Raven wood remained in the hands of the French. They were situated in close proximity to the northern slope of the hill.

"On the eastern bank of the Meuse the fighting has been still less deflected. Only on Height 344 and in Fosse wood has the enemy won a little ground. The artillery fire against the enemy forward works appreciably impeded the advance to the attack, and the artillery also took a prominent part in our successful defense. The other arms, particularly the pioneers and aviators, materially assisted in the satisfactory termination of the day.

"The losses to the French infantry in relation to the masses used are extraordinarily high. The battle before Verdun has not terminated this morning. Fresh engagements developed at various places. Both leaders and troops anticipate a favorable conclusion.

"Twenty-six enemy airmen were shot down; we lost five airplanes.

"Eastern theater: From the Dvina to the Danube the situation remains unchanged. In Macedonia there is nothing of importance to report."

EVENING STATEMENT.

The evening official statement from general headquarters reads:

"In Flanders there was artillery activity of varying intensity. North of Lens local engagements have taken place.

"Before Verdun at isolated points fighting is still proceeding, particularly on Hill 304 (344?) We repulsed strong French attacks.

"In the east there is nothing to report."

Italians Using Floating Batteries and Monitors.

Success Becoming Delineated Despite Resistance.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Aug. 21.—More than 10,000 prisoners had been taken by the Italians in their new offensive up to yesterday evening, the War Office announces.

The great battle on the Isonzo front continues without interruption. The War Office states that the Austrian line is beginning to bend and give way at various points.

The Italians, supported by floating and fixed batteries and monitors, are marching toward success, which, the statement says, is becoming delineated in spite of undiminished enemy resistance.

Enemy defenses between Corite and Selo, near the strongly-fortified Starilokva position, have been captured by the Italians.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

"Over the battlefield 261 of our airplanes have flown," says the statement. "Troops massed between Selo and Momeno and on the eastern slopes of Monte Hermada were bombarded. Works at the Tarvis railway center and enemy troops in movement there were bombed with five tons of high explosives. One of our pursuit machines did not return to its base. One enemy airplane was brought down.

"Up to yesterday evening the total number of the enemy passing into our prisoner camps was 343 officers and 10,103 men. Many other wounded prisoners are in the field hospitals.

"On Sunday night the enemy attempted a diversion by concentrating fire and carrying out local attacks at various points on the Trentino and Carnia fronts. He was repulsed everywhere. One of his storming parties was destroyed in the Lagarina Valley and another, which had succeeded in gaining a foothold in one of our advance posts southeast of Monte Malo, was driven back by a front counter-attack."

ON JULIAN FRONT.

"The battle on the Julian front is proceeding without interruption. With great perseverance and concordant action, our troops efficaciously supported on the extreme right by floating and fixed batteries and by monitors of the royal navy, are marching toward success, which, in spite of the undiminished resistance of the enemy, is becoming delineated.

"On the north wing the struggle is going on regularly on the Carso Plateau and in the coastal zone, under pressure of the third army, the enemy line is beginning to bend and give way at various points. Italian brigades competing in valor, have succeeded in carrying the well-organized enemy defense between Corite and Selo, near the strongly-fortified position of Starilokva."

RAILROADS MUST PAY TELEGRAPH CHARGES.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 21.—Judge Evans of the United States Court has sustained the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission declaring invalid the usual provision in the contracts between the railroads and telegraph companies by which free service is given on both sides. The commission decided that the telegraph company must pay for its railroad service and the railroad company must pay for the telegraph service, notwithstanding any contracts. Judge Mayer of the United States Court, in New York, in a suit brought by the B. & O. railroad company against the Western Union Telegraph Company decided against the latter company and held that the ruling of the commission was erroneous and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals sustained that decision.

Judge Evans, however, in a suit brought by the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company against the Chicago Great Western Railway Company has reached a contrary conclusion and has held in a decision handed down a few days ago that the commission was right in its decision and therefore decides in favor of the Postal company. This decision is of far-reaching importance in the relations between the railroads and the telegraph companies.

CONCERT PIANIST DONATES INCOME.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Arthur Shattuck, the concert pianist who inherited a large estate upon the death of his father, F. C. Shattuck, a Wisconsin paper manufacturer, has turned the entire income from the estate over to the war relief for the duration of the conflict, it was learned today.

The Paris Trust and Savings Bank, which will act with advice of a committee, was appointed trustee to carry out the plan. At the bank it was said that the income amounts to more than $50,000 a year. Mr. Shattuck particularly desires to aid European associates and colleagues of the musical profession who have been rendered destitute by the war.

The young millionaire has only his own efforts to depend on for a livelihood, which he expects to gain by giving concerts.

Coal.

price of $3 fixed by government officials and operators at a conference here more than a month ago. The $3 price agreement, however, did not hold, as many operators refused to abide by it, and Secretary Baker, president of the Council of National Defense, repudiated it as too high. Prices recently have ranged far above the $3 limit.

The fixing of prices was the President's second step in the direction of coal control. The first was taken yesterday, when the President named Robert S. Lovett director of transportation and approved an order issued by Judge Lovett directing that coal shipments to the Northwest be given preference over other goods.

Tonight's action was taken as an indication that the President has abandoned a plan originally considered which called for government requisitioning of the output of all mines, with the government selling the product to the public. This procedure was strongly recommended by the Federal Trade Commission, and until tonight it had been believed it would be the programme adopted.

NO POOL LIKELY.

The President's order apparently makes no provision for a pooling arrangement which had been suggested, under which mines would have been paid for their output on a basis of cost of production plus a percentage of profit. Under this plan all coal in a district would have been sold at the same rate, but the mines would have received commensuration based solely on costs.

The plan adopted, officials admitted tonight, will work hardships on a great many of the smaller mines, and may force some to close down. This, it is claimed, however, will not reduce the total output, as miners released from the small mines will go to the large ones and more cars can be supplied to mines of large producing capacity.

Officials who believe the President will name one man to control coal output, point, too, his desire that extraordinary powers given the government for war purposes be placed in organization that can be dispensed with after the war is over. Many are of the opinion that he will create an organization to handle coal similar to the food administration.

OPERATORS ORGANIZE.

Operators from all the bituminous coal-producing States met here today and organized the National Coal Operators' Association, to promote co-operative effort on the part of the coal producers, and co-operation with public officials, especially during the war emergency. Delegates were present from State and other sectional organizations, representing some 700 operators whose annual production aggregates 200,000,000 tons.

Francis Peabody, chairman of the Defense Council's Coal Production Committee, addressed the operators, and expressed hearty sympathy with their movement, which is a development of the conference of coal men held here in July.

their immediate object, by drawing their lines still closer about the heart of the city and their goal unless the German counter-attacks succeed. By today's attack the Canadians have gained possession of many railway embankments and colliery sidings which afford excellent positions for either offensive or defense operations.

The Canadian assault extended from the northwest environs of the city to positions in the southwest suburbs, and as the Germans were already advancing to attack the new Canadian defenses, the fighting quickly assumed the character of one of the most sanguinary conflicts which this battle scarred theater has seen.

DAWN BRINGS FRAY.

On the northwest, the Canadians and the Germans clashed in No Man's Land just as the first gray streaks of dawn were appearing. From the start it was a struggle with hand bombs and bayonets, but the Canadians threw themselves upon the enemy with such fierceness that the Germans were forced to withdraw, battling step by step until the Canadians had penetrated their position to a depth of several hundred yards and taken up new posts which they are holding against bitter counter thrusts.

A circular line around which the opposing forces now are fighting is drawn close about the city proper, where the Germans had fortified themselves in concrete cellars and dugouts.

No estimates of casualties or prisoners is yet available but captured Germans were beginning to arrive back to both fronts at an early hour.

Included in those totals are those who will die of disease, and the normal mortality of those in home camps.

This gives us a line on what chance a man has in the war. The number of men in our fighting forces is to be gradually increased until there are 2,000,000 under arms. This means that eighty out of every 100 who go into it will come out of the war with serious hurts, even if the fighting continues as desperately for the next two years as it has been during the three years before our advent into the struggle.

Sixty-fifth Congress.

MAY INCREASE WAR-TAX LEVY.

La Follette Wants Heavier Burden on the Rich.

Borah to Speak in Favor of Fewer Bond Issues.

Weeks Deplores the Stand of Wisconsin Man.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. — Increase in the total levy of the $2,000,000,000 war tax bill was regarded certain tonight following another day of Senate debate and informal conferences among leaders. The extent of the increase was still in doubt, with antagonism growing between factions advocating and opposing a drastic advance in rates on war profits and incomes.

Senators La Follette and Weeks made the only addresses today. The former spoke for nearly three hours in favor of radically higher levies on war profits and incomes of the wealthy, while the latter defended the bill as drafted by the Finance Committee, urging that business should not be injured by too heavy initial tax burdens.

After a speech tomorrow by Senator Borah in favor of higher taxation and fewer bonds, consideration of the income tax section is expected to begin.

Leaders of the Finance Committee now are considering presentation of amendments proposing higher surtaxes on big incomes. Those advocating greater levies declare at least thirty Senators favor such action, although few are expected to go to the extent urged by Senator La Follette and the other minority members of the committee.

TAX FOR BIG INCOMES.

Senator Gerry, a Finance Committee member and reputed millionaire, today introduced an amendment reported to have been approved by committee leaders, to increase by about 33 per cent. surtaxes on incomes of $500,000 and more. His amendment proposes a levies of 35 per cent. on incomes between $500,000 and $750,000; 45 per cent. on those between $750,000 and $1,000,000, and 50 per cent. on those over $1,000,000. It would raise $40,225,000 more revenue.

Advocating conscription of wealth to pay for the war, Senator La Follette said 30 per cent. of war profits instead of only about 10 per cent., should be taken by the government. He emphasized the small proportion of war revenue it is proposed to raise by taxes—about one-fifth the sum to be received from bonds—and contended that the tax bill could easily be increased by more than $1,500,000,000 by increasing war profits and income tax rates.

Wealthy interests, the Wisconsin Senator asserted, favor having more bonds and fewer taxes, although the people prefer heavier taxation.

RICH SHOULD SHARE BURDEN.

Urging a larger proportion of taxes, the Wisconsin Senator said:

"It is a part of the history of all great wars that wealth has demanded the minimum of taxation and the maximum of loans, while the poorer classes have desired the maximum of taxation and the minimum of loans and this difference is accentuated now since war profits and excessive incomes are being forced by taxation to contribute some portion of the revenues which war makes it necessary to raise.

"Wealth has never yet sacrificed itself on the altar of patriotism in any war. On the contrary it has ever shown itself eager to take advantage of the misfortunes which war always brings to the masses of the people. That has been true of every war we have had and it is certainly true of the present war.

"It may be argued that the poor equally with the rich will have the opportunity to purchase war bonds. It is small comfort to have the opportunity to purchase bonds if you have little or no money to invest in bonds. The late Liberty Loan is a good example of bonds sold to the poor or those of limited means. All the machinery of the government was set in motion to sell these bonds to the small investor."

Senator La Follette asserted the bonds were "a poor investment to the man of small means in comparison with the advantages which the owners of large incomes could secure from investing millions of their taxable incomes in these non-taxable bonds," and continued:

"We are counselled by the highest economic authority, we are admonished by all history, we are commanded by every consideration of justice to the American boys who are marked for slaughter, to the American homes already in the shadow of death, to declare here and now by our votes on this record that the wealth of this country will be taken as mercilessly through the power of taxation as men are taken by force of the draft."

By keeping down taxes and increasing bonds, Senator La Follette said, the masses are being "mortgaged to the moneylenders."

VALUE OF LOANS DOUBTFUL.

Loans to the Allies, the Senator said, may and may not be repaid, certainly not for many years after the war. Russia, he said, is in the throes of a revolution, and "Italy, if reports are correct, is on the eve of one."

Possibility of bread lines this winter because of the high cost of living, he pictured thus in conclusion:

"Always remember that the high prices already upon us have taxed the common people of this country for the support of this war to a much greater extent than the wealthy class would be taxed if every dollar of income of the members of that class were taken by the taxation. When bread lines shall be a familiar sight in every city of this land, as they are bound to be if the present prices of the simple necessaries of life are maintained during the coming winter, when cold and hunger are daily visitors in many thousands of homes which have known only comfort heretofore, a condition certain to exist during the coming winter months unless relief from present prices can be found, it will be small satisfaction, I think, to the members of this Congress, to realize that they have contributed to the want and suffering of the mass of people by refusing to place even an approximately fair portion of the financial burden of this war upon the rich."

"Rich slackers" were scored by Senator LaFollette, who read a letter from a United Mine Workers' official of Illinois, addressed to himself and Senator Stone of Missouri, predicting that "people's patience over the mounting cost of living had reached its limit and that Congress should act or the people would."

WEEKS'S REPLY.

In replying, Senator Weeks, in a two-hour speech, declared the pending bill provides a fair distribution between taxes and bonds, with more taxes than other belligerents imposed during their first year of war. He deplored what he termed Senator LaFollette's arraignment of "class against class," declaring the attack upon "rich slackers" a libel upon wealthy citizens manifesting patriotism.

GRADUAL INCREASING TAXES.

War taxes, Senator Weeks said, should be imposed gradually so as not to injure business and tax sources, and subsequent generations should be made to pay a part of the war burdens for the benefits they will receive. He declared the imposition of heavy taxes on incomes in this country and none in Canada would result in business being driven across the border; that such taxes would interfere with the educational research and charitable work now being performed by the wealthy, and would have a tendency to destroy initiative on the part of the corporations, at the same time diminishing their ability to contribute to the expenses of the government.

SCORES RED AGITATORS.

Regarding the labor situation, he said the same interests—the I.W.W.—are responsible for the present strike in the West as those which precipitated strike riots in Lawrence, Mass., some years ago. In his judgment, he said, those agitators are not entitled to any defense from capital and they get none from organized labor.

NATION TO GET THE NEWS DAILY

Statements Promised When Americans Begin Fighting.

First Official Summary will be Issued in Few Days.

Many Rumors of Disaster Denied Emphatically.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The first official summary of the war activities of the United States will be issued in a few days by Secretary Baker, to be followed weekly thereafter with statements of such matters as may be disclosed without violating military precautions.

The exact nature of the statements has not been made known. Secretary Baker said he would go just as far as the military advisers of the government deemed it wise toward informing the public of what was in progress. Information of every sort reaching the department will be scrutinized for publishable matter.

DAILY STATEMENTS.

When American troops get into action in France, daily statements probably will be issued, founded upon the reports from Gen. Pershing.

Regarding many rumors of disasters to American troops or shipping, constantly being circulated, Mr. Baker reiterated emphatically the pledge of the administration to withhold no news of misadventure of the forces from the public. Every untoward happening will be announced promptly, he said, and the public may rest assured that no news means good news to that extent. Such rumors as have been current recently, he said, were without any foundation whatever.

NAVAL MATTERS.

The extent to which naval happenings can be made public is a different matter. Secretary Daniels has promised that news of disasters will be given out with as little delay as possible, but it is not to be expected that the extent of damage to naval craft, temporary disablement of destroyers or other vessels either as a result of action or through accident will be disclosed. The practice of all countries has been to keep the enemy as much in the dark as possible on such matters.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, shallowness and tan, and in the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

French Advancing.

then to wait an opportunity to strike again. It is not the territory rewon that counts, but the losses inflicted."

On the Verdun battlefield, where the French won immortal fame in 1916 by stopping the greatest onslaught ever made in the history of the world, yesterday became the scene of the most brilliant offensive ever carried out by the French army, which has added another series of victories to its glorious record.

Describing the preliminary bombardment and the opening of the battle, the Havas agency correspondent says that he observed the last act of preparation for the battle from a powerful Meuse fort.

WHOLE FRONT AFLAME.

"The whole front was aflame with flashes from thousands of guns massed on a line of more than twenty-five kilometers," he writes. "The scene was like a gigantic furnace spitting great sparks. The rear rises and falls slightly, but it is always infernal. The earth shakes from the never ceasing thunder of the guns as they hurl death into the midst of the Germans.

"Sometimes tremendous explosions rise above the thunder of the guns as some munitions depot in the rear of the German lines is blown up by a daring French aviator.

"Precisely at twenty minutes before five o'clock the command 'Over the tops,' was telephoned along the entire line of attack. The French soldiers leaped from the trenches with a great shout and went forward with a dash that defies description.

"Surprised by the suddenness of the assault, the Germans apparently were all at sea. Full twelve minutes elapsed before the German fire curtain, or barrage, became effective and in those twelve precious minutes the French fighters crossed No Man's land with out a single casualty and began the attack upon the Germans in their trenches. Many of the German trenches were found to be empty. Only in one place, on Talon Hill, did one German company hold out against the French. That company, with its very young lieutenant commander, was bombed out and all were made prisoners.

ADVANCE IS STOPPED.

"At 6 o'clock the French advance was stopped by a prearranged order of the staff to permit aviators to report on the progress made. An aviator flew over the French headquarters and dropped a map of the positions occupied by the French, the German strength at various places and the activity among the enemy. Then came a homing pigeon from Dead Man's Hill with a message that the summits of the hill and Hill No. 344 had been taken.

"Then the French advance was resumed, guided by the new information, and throughout the day it progressed to the glory of France and the credit of the French soldiers."

In the German barrage nothing but asphyxiating shells were used, therefore the entire French army participating was equipped with gas masks. The Germans also employed a large number of flame throwers, but they were checked by bombs.

We ought not to tell this.

But it is a fact that a lot of pretty housewives are saving money at the "Guaranty" secretly.

It is money they have been able to save here and there in the household, and they are saving it for the coming rainy day.

Without telling anyone anything about it.

Some day the money is going to come in handy and the head of the household will have one of the pleasantest surprises of his life.

In the meantime we hope that he doesn't find it out and that the saving will continue uninterrupted.

STRIKERS RIOT; BEAT WORKERS.

Violent Outbreak Reported in San Francisco.

Mayor Rolph in Conference with the Supervisors.

Seven Men are Arrested for Disturbing the Peace.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—One man was taken to a hospital with a possible fractured skull and four others were severely beaten tonight in the first serious violence that has marked the strike of a portion of the employees of the United Railroads here.

The trouble broke out simultaneously in many parts of the city and actuated road officials to appeal for additional police protection for their barns. The most serious outbreak occurred near one of the barns where men are housed. Several shots were fired, but the police said none took effect. William B. Dunton, who suffered a fractured skull, was beaten over the head supposedly with a controller bar.

Mayor James Rolph, Jr., was in two conferences with the Board of Supervisors that yesterday voted to open negotiations for the purpose. It was announced that the administration had decided in these conferences to adopt a receptive attitude toward any offer the company may make. President Jesse W. Lilienthal, of the road, said he would bring before the company's board of directors Thursday the resolutions and actions of the Supervisors.

The valuation of the company's system is near completion, according to announcement of the State Railroad Commission. The valuation has been set as the basis of negotiations by the Supervisors.

Mayor Rolph will confer with company officials tomorrow morning.

Seven men were arrested during the day on charges of disturbing the peace. Dist.-Atty. Charles M. Fickert announced he would ask the county grand jury tomorrow to indict five substitute carmen on felony charges of carrying concealed weapons without official permits. Several more revolver shots were fired in attacks on a car crew by men who escaped. No damage was done.

STRIKE ORDER THREATENS BROOKLYN NAVY YARD

Thirty Thousand Machinists, Boilermakers and Blacksmiths Engaged in Marine Work in the Port of New York Told to Go Out Immediately—Conference and Sends Conciliators to the Scene.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A general strike of machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths engaged in marine work in the Port of New York and vicinity and including the navy yard in Brooklyn, was ordered here today at a mass meeting of representatives of marine metal workers. The strike was called to enforce settlement of a demand made six weeks ago for a minimum wage scale of $4.50 a day.

The date for the strike was not fixed. It was reported the men had been instructed to go out immediately.

That the Federal government has already taken notice of the situation was announced at the meeting, with the statement that conciliators from the Department of Labor now are here.

After the meeting, which represented 30,000 union workers, one of the officials of the machinists' union said the question of a nation-wide strike had been taken up with proper officials, but the hope was expressed that a settlement may be reached before such action is brought about.

The Grimes Engineering Company of Jersey City granted its striking machanics a wage rate of $4.50 a day in accordance with the terms of the marine trades council, making the fourteenth shipbuilding plant to yield to the demands of the union since the strike began. Leaders of the strikers admitted tonight that 800 more shipyard workmen were out.

More than Eight Thousand Soldiers Who Fought in War of Rebellion Gather at Boston to Attend Annual Reunion with Hearts Light and Patriotism High.

BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Representatives of the new Russian republic clasped hands tonight with the preservers of the American republic in Faneuil Hall, the cradle of American liberty, when Boris A. Bakhmetieff, the Russian Ambassador, spoke at the national camp fire of the Grand Army of the Republic. The Ambassador praised the showing which the veterans made in their march, 8000 strong, through the streets, with spirits as martial, through with steps not so firm, as half a century ago. Mr. Bakhmetieff said:

"You offered your lives and gave your all for a great idea, the noble cause of democracy and free government. Today the work you did, the traff you blazed, has been as inspiration to the downtrodden and oppressed people of Russia and they, knowing your efforts and your success, arose in their might and, fighting for the selfsame ideals and causes, have established a free government by a free people.

"The story of the United States government is not unknown to the Russian people. Every Russian schoolboy has read it and knows it by heart."

KILLED BY TRAIN IN PHOENIX.

Wealthy Arizona Mining Man and Texas Visitor Victims of Crash.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Aug. 21.—Joseph Cope, killed today in a grade crossing accident, was one of the most prominent residents of Phoenix, wealthy, a successful dealer in mines and realty and lately a member of the City Commission.

With him at the time and also killed was George W. Hysaw of Marfa, Tex., and Big Springs, who had been here a week only looking for investments in land and cattle.

Cope was 70 years old. His wife and niece have been wired home from a Southern California resort. Mr. Hysaw was 40, with a wife and several children in Texas.

The accident occurred in front of the main entrance to the State fair grounds on Grand avenue. A Santa Fe train from Los Angeles, several hours late, was in clear sight and had whistled for the crossing. It is believed Cope failed to note the train until he was almost on the tracks and then tried to speed his machine rather than risk a dangerous stop.

The slowing train caught the Cope car and pushed it only a short distance, but the men were thrown out and landed on their heads, sustaining injuries from which both died within a few minutes.

RUSSELL WINS FOR CHICAGO.

Pitches Perfect Ball to Defeat Boston.

League Begins its Military Training.

Reds Hand Giants Their Third Straight.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Chicago defeated Boston in the third game of the important series between the leaders for the American League pennant. The game was a pitchers' battle, between Ruth and Russell, with the latter having the better of the argument.

Russell pitched a perfect game and was given brilliant support. He allowed but five hits, and these were well scattered. One man reached third base, but no others were able to pass second.

At the close of the game Del Gainer and Chick Gandil engaged in a fist fight in the locals' dugout. Gandil claimed Gainer attempted to spike him when he slid into first in the fourth inning. The men were stopped by their team-mates.

Chicago now leads Boston by three games. The standing:

VENTURA VENISON IS SEIZED HERE.

Two boxes of venison illegally shipped from Ventura county were seized yesterday by Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner A. J. Stout. The only legal way venison can enter Los Angeles or the other southern counties east of Ventura, is in the whole carcass, with a proper affidavit or statement attached thereto. C. Hollingsworth and O. C. Sattler were the shippers.

The law insists upon the whole carcass, because if cut deer were permitted to be shipped about there would be no way of enforcing the doe, fawn and spike-buck protection, and to support the "evidence of sex attached" clause.

Deputy Henry Abies arrested two men and seized two carcasses in Santa Barbara county because the evidence of sex required by law had been removed. Some hunters are careless about his form of violation, which costs as much as any other if discovered. The burden of proof is on the hunter to show he did not kill doe, fawn or spike buck.

GUNBOAT IS LICKED.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Aug. 20.—Kid Norfolk, a negro heavyweight, of Baltimore, decisively outfought Gunboat Smith here tonight in ten rounds. Norfolk carried the battle all the way, seldom giving Smith an opportunity to set himself for a telling punch. Smith claimed to have hurt his right hand in the third round. The weights were Norfolk, 179½; Smith, 174.

SOUTH IS WEAK FOR STATE GOLF.

Southern California golfers who leave next week for the State championships at Del Monte will find a strong delegation of northern cracks awaiting their arrival. Heins Schmidt of Claremont, ex-western champion; Douglas Grant, Burlingame; Jack Neville, Claremont; Arthur Vincent, Claremont, and Vincent Whitney of the Ingleside Club have definitely entered.

As Ed. Tufts sees it, the south will arrive at Del Monte weak in individual stars but strong for team competition. E. S. Armstrong looms up as the outstanding pinnacle among the locals. But a year ago conditions were just as they are now, when Larry Cowing did the unexpected.

NORTHWEST PLANS FRESHMAN TOLERANCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PULLMAN (Wash.) Aug. 21.—Plans for a meeting of representatives of colleges affiliated with the northwest collegiate conference, to be held in Spokane, probably early in September, are being taken up by Fred Bohler of Washington State College, conference secretary, he announced here today. Dropping for the period of the war of the freshman rule, adopted by the conference last December, is the principal question to come up, he said, and the matter of a revision of the football schedule, due to delayed opening of the season, also will be considered.

Eastern Tennis.

ENDURANCE IS VITAL FACTOR.

California Recquesters Hang on and Win.

Murray, Strachan and Griffin are Victorious.

N. W. Niles Smothers Ward's Cleverness.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FOREST HILLS (L. I.) Aug. 20.—After a day featured by unusually hard-fought tennis matches, the East and the West were about equally represented among the victors in the national patriotic singles tournament being played on the courts of the West Side club for the benefit of the National Association Ambulance Fund. While there were no further sensational upsets as was the case yesterday, the class of play was exceptionally high.

The most thrilling struggle was the four-set match between R. Lindley Murray of Niagara Falls, but formerly of California, and W. T. Tilden, Jr., of Philadelphia. Murray was the victor by scores of 3-6, 6-4, 8-3 and 6-3, but only after he had worn down his opponent in a sensational struggle in which the fast serving, smashing and court covering at top speed was interspersed with remarkable gets and blocking at the net.

John R. Strachan of San Francisco also gained a place in the fourth round by eliminating A. W. MacPherson of New York, former holder of the Russian championship, by scores of 6-2, 8-6, 6-0 and 6-2. Both played steady tennis, but Strachan had the greater reserve power, and his hard driving and service, combined with ability to fight his way to the net, were the deciding factors.

R. Norris Williams II of Boston, 1916 champion, defeated Irving C. Wright, his townsman, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7 and 6-2, due in great part to his greater experience and court generalship.

N. W. Niles, another Bostonian, eliminated Holcombe Ward, the sensation of yesterday's play, when he defeated the 1904 champion, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1 and 6-2. Niles played all of Ward's chop and cut strokes hard and fought his way to the net at every opportunity, from which position he was able to smother many of Ward's clever attempts at cross-court and short shots.

Charles S. Garland, the young player from Pittsburgh, conquered Douglas Watters of New Orleans in four sets at 1-6, 6-4, 6-1 and 6-2.

Watson M. Washburn of New York was defeated by Harold A. Throckmorton of Elizabeth, N. J., 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 and 6-4, in a match in which endurance played a large part.

Clarence Griffin of San Francisco had little difficulty in winning from Robert of Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-0 and 6-2. It was one of the easiest victories of the day, placing the holder of the doubles championship with Johnston in the bracket against Niles for tomorrow's match.

Craig Biddle of Philadelphia and Dean Mathey of Cranford, N. J., fought out a bitter match, which was still undecided when darkness arrived, Biddle was leading by scores of 6-4, 13-14 and 6-2 when the referee ordered the play postponed until Wednesday.

GRAND CIRCUIT.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—All three of the races on the second day's card of the Grand Circuit race meeting at Belmont track today were decided in straight heats, North Spur, Ben Ali and Bacolli taking their respective events in handy fashion. There were close finishes in the 2:10 pace, which furnished a track record for an open pacing race of 2:04 in the second heat.

North Spur, a winner at Cleveland last Friday, owned by Joseph McLaughlin of this city, and driven by Cox, won all three heats of 2:20 trot for the directors' stake of $1000.

The 2:10 pace for the Adelphia Hotel stake of $3000 was hotly contested. Ben Ali, the favorite, won in straight heats. Judge Moore, driven by Goodheart, and Game of Chance, driven by Cox, made the pace in all three heats, but the others were killed off when Pitman made his drive after passing the half and it was a battle between Pitman and Cox to the wire, two of the three heats resulting in whipping finishes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PULLMAN (Wash.) Aug. 21.—Plans for a meeting of representatives of colleges affiliated with the northwest collegiate conference, to be held in Spokane, probably early in September, are being taken up by Fred Bohler of Washington State College, conference secretary, he announced here today. Dropping for the period of the war of the freshman rule, adopted by the conference last December, is the principal question to come up, he said, and the matter of a revision of the football schedule, due to delayed opening of the season, also will be considered.

BOXING AT VENICE.

Big Fights Scheduled for Tonight and Tomorrow.

Boxing fans will have a chance to see two big fights at the Venice Auditorium tonight and tomorrow night. Tonight Jack Britton, welterweight champion, will meet Jack Dillon, former middleweight champion, in a ten-round bout. Tomorrow night Jack Dempsey, middleweight champion, will meet Jack Britton in a ten-round bout.

Both matches promise to be interesting, as Britton has been training hard for his bout with Dillon, and Dempsey has been working out for his match with Britton. Dillon has been training at Venice for the past week, and is in good condition.

Third Hitters.

MIKE GOLINDO WINS IN WILD SLUGGING MATCH.

BY LEEPOOH BOWERS.

HEREAFTER anybody who wants to land a fight at Jack Doyle's arena may do so by saying "My first name is Mike." That will be all that is necessary. Mike Golindo and Mike Dell made the tribe of Mike everlastingly famous in the main event last night and, after a terrific slugging match, Golindo was given a shade victory.

It is doubtful if there was ever a better slam-bang, what-do-I-care exhibition of punch swapping in Doyle's ring than took place Tuesday night. The ex-sailor waded into Dell from the start and wouldn't let him get set. Dell had his opponent groggy a couple of times, but the sailor's aggressiveness gave him what margin there was.

Another great fight wasn't even down on the programmes. When Kid Lamon decided that he wanted to take a nap after boxing about thirty seconds with George Fritz in the first bout of the evening, Jack Doyle announced that he would supply the fans with an extra bout.

Kid Jackson, the well-known slugger, was toted out and with him a sheepish-looking person announced as Louis Condee of Oakland. Mr. Condee confided that he had beat his way south on the keel of a freight car and he manifestly wasn't in shape for a tough fight.

From the minute the first gong rang this Condee person nailed Jack Jackson and swung from the floor with both hands. For four solid rounds he flailed and slammed and handed Jackson enough punishment to forever ruin an ordinary human being. Although he could scarcely stand up from sheer exhaustion at the finish, Condee was given a well-earned decision.

Hard Hitters.

Burt Forbes and Phil Salvatore, two cut-and-dry questers, staged a great draw in the semi-windup. Forbes is a clever boy, who can pack those off with his hands and Salvatore is a strong, straight puncher. The first two rounds were even, Salvatore had the slightest of edges in the third and Forbes started it up in the fourth.

Kenny Ellis, a last-minute Billy Moore in a good bout, fought fast straight punching, while Moore indulged in his well-known variety of wild swings. Moore drew blood on Smith's lips but was out-pointed all the way and was groggy at the finish of the bout.

Young Golindo, a kid brother of the main-event winner, took a slight decision over Walter Whitten. Whitten was once a great boxer but had no steam last night. He forced the fighting and did good work in the clinches but Golindo's clean punches won for him.

Gene Watson was another fight and, strange to say, downright bizarre Gene seemed to like it. The crowd actually gave him a hand. He put up a splendid bout against Fred McManus and won all the way. The opening bout was that in which Kid Lamon entered when tapped by George Fritz.

Ross, 82 years old, the secretary, holds a party each month in the year to celebrate the birthday anniversary of one of its twelve members. It happens that there is no member whose birthday falls in August, so the annual picnic will be held instead.

HIS UNCLE DEAD?

Italian Wants Court to Say So, and Disincumber Property.

Giovanni Robesco filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday through his attorney, Roger Marchetti, to have his uncle, Domenico Robesco, determined judicially dead. The action is to establish title to real estate holdings in Fove, Vicenge province, Italy, the Robesco family's home. The property was owned by the man thought to be dead.

Mr. Robesco bases his petition on the fact that his uncle disappeared from the County Hospital in Great Forks, Mont., in 1910, and is believed to have drowned himself in the Missouri River. Although the body has never been recovered, he is believed to be dead.

NEGROES BARRED?

Race Prejudice in the Fire Department is Charged.

The charge that race prejudice is all that has prevented negroes from being appointed members of the fire department was made before the Council yesterday. The Council referred the question to the committee of the whole and sent a letter to the Chief, asking him to be present when the matter is discussed.

DECISION POSTPONED.

The final appeal of Charles W. Moore, a New York jeweler, when Judge Wellborn was about to appoint Hugh T. Gordon, an attorney, guardian of Phelps S. Moore, the former's son, halted the decision until Monday, when briefs will be filed. Mrs. Moore, who was divorced from Mr. Moore, is alleged to have asked, on her death bed, that Mr. Gordon be named guardian of her son. The lad has an estate of about $30,000.

HIGH AND DRY.

Physiological education and mental organization probably sounded attractive to Mrs. Mary M. Lake, but as a matter of steady diet, it did not cement the bonds of love, and she brought suit for desertion. In Judge Willis's court yesterday she testified when asked why she married F. C. Lake, "Oh, I kind of liked him." Mr. Lake did not contest the case. The decree was granted.

Journey.

TO BATTLE CREEK.

H. J. Whitley, who Because of Poor Health has Been Retiring from Various Corporations, is on His Way to Sanatorium to Avert Operation.

H. J. Whitley left yesterday for the sanatorium at Battle Creek, Mich., for special examination and treatment. He spent several months there last summer, and at that time was operated upon, which benefitted him for a time. It is hoped treatment will avert another operation.

For a long time, on account of ill-health, he has been retiring from various corporations with which he has been identified in an official capacity or as director. Some time ago he retired as vice-president and director of the Home Savings Bank, as the condition of his health prevented him giving the business of the bank necessary attention. He was one of the original stockholders in the bank and still retains his large interest therein.

More than a year ago he practically closed up the affairs of the Los Angeles Suburban Homes Company, of which he was general manager, and last month the H. J. Whitley Syndicate distributed a large portion of its unsold lands in the San Fernando Valley, leaving its affairs in such shape that they can be looked after by others.

DECREE GRANTED.

Mrs. Emily L. McGrath won a decree of divorce from Dr. P. James McGrath before Judge Hewitt yesterday. Mrs. McGrath could not be in court and the evidence was that of her neighbors and others as to Dr. McGrath's alleged bibulous habits.

MEETING OF VOTERS.

Last night an annexation meeting was held at the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club to impress some of the latest developments upon the voters. These developments included the discovery that annexation might eliminate saloons from Santa Monica.

Plans have been made, say those in charge of annexation headquarters, to keep a record of every apparently illegal vote cast and to prosecute after the election is over, if fraud is disclosed. The allegation was made by Carl F. Schader, one of the prominent workers for annexation, that a number of persons have been "colonized" and registered in order to vote on the annexation question. Regarding this Mr. Schader, a member of the Annexation Committee and chairman of the taxpayers' section, said:

"Not less than 200 names of persons who have no right to vote are in the hands of Attorneys Vincent Morgan and Frank Stewart, and of Ed Smith of the Sheriff's office, and though some may slip through and vote, records will be kept and prosecutions will follow the election if any illegal vote is cast."

ANNEXATION ARGUMENTS.

Annexationists lay stress on certain points of advantage which will accrue with annexation. Some of these are:

Owens River water, lower taxes, co-operation and civic interests with Los Angeles, development of Santa Monica's water front and beach dis-

Backers and arguments for the annexation of Santa Monica to Los Angeles.

The lower picture shows, at the right, a portion of the municipal beach which Los Angeles will develop if the annexation carries today and, at the left, how some of the large property owners are urging, by placards on their buildings, the cause of consolidation. In the center (inset) is the "deadly parallel" posted outside the annexation committee's head quarters. It compares what Santa Monica has to pay now with what it will have to pay if annexed. For the Draft.

DOUBLED QUOTA NOW EXCEEDED.

Southern California Calls Over Fifteen Thousand.

Estimated that One-third of Them are Real Soldiers.

Twenty-two Per Cent. of All are Physically Unfit.

The famous "doubled quota," which the Provost Marshal-General estimated before the draft would secure the country's new liberty army, was reached and passed in Southern California yesterday. To date 15,305 persons of draft age have been examined for army service south of the Tehachepi. This is approximately twice the total number of soldiers which Southern California must furnish for the army. But out of the 15,305 examined but 3160 have passed all the tests and waived exemption. Using the averages for about thirty exemption boards to determine the number of exemption claims likely to be disallowed out of a total of 6574 filed indicates that approximately 1800 more soldiers will be secured from pleas denied. This is but forty short of 6000, which may be taken as a fair estimate of the number of soldiers actually secured thus far, or about 2500 short of the quota. In tabular form the figures are as follows:

TOTALS.

Number examined	15,305
Physically disqualified	3,445
Automatically exempted	1,774
Asked exemption	6,574
Not asking exemption	3,160
Failed to appear	625
Soldiers secured (estimated)	1,600

Physically disqualified	22.1
Automatically exempted	11.5

ATTORNEYS TO MEET.

To formulate a definite procedure in appealing all claims for exemption, allowed by local boards on dependent grounds, the eighteen local attorneys appointed by Judge Finlayson will meet tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock in the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting was arranged for by Maj. D. R. Weller, who has been delegated by Judge Finlayson to act for him in the matter. These appeals will be made under authority of section 27 of the Rules and Regulations Prescribed by the President for Local and District Boards, which provides that it shall be the duty of the Provost Marshal-General to direct some person or persons to take appeals from all decisions of local boards allowing claims for exemptions in cases of men claiming dependents.

The Department of Justice has also detailed twenty-five special secret service agents to the city of Los Angeles who will co-operate with

FIX SCHEDULE OF GAS RATES.

State Railway Commission Establishes Minimum Charge for Service Here.

In fixing the gas rates to be charged by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the Southern California Gas Company, the State Railroad Commission yesterday introduced an innovation by fixing a minimum charge for residence and apartment service, these being 50 and 35 cents, respectively. Hitherto there has been no minimum.

No great change was made in existing schedules and the 68-cent Los Angeles charge remains as the basis. Block rate schedules were in general adopted, the price varying with the amount of gas used. The new rates are lower to large consumers and higher to small ones. They affect Los Angeles, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Glendale, Huntington Park, Inglewood, Tropico, Eagle Rock, Watts, San Fernando, San Marino, San Gabriel, Burbank, Compton and adjacent territory.

Gas of 815 British thermal units remains the basis of rate-fixing. The commission suggested that the city of Los Angeles move at once to force the service of better gas.

Contest.

WIDOWER ATTACKS WILL LEFT BY CHILD BRIDE.

STUART N. WEST, alleging that his wife, Mrs. Edith M. West, deceased, did not sign what purports to be her last will, filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday contesting the probating of the instrument, which disposes of an estate valued at $29,000. The contest will be heard November 9.

Mr. West alleges further that the will is not legal in that his wife did not sign it in the presence of J. Elva Faulkner and Dorris Poock, whose names are attached to it as witnesses, and that his wife was not of sound mind and that undue influence was exercised over her by her mother, Mrs. Pearl P. Arbuckle of Venice, in the absence of the husband.

Mrs. West, the complainant alleges, was a resident of Round Lake, Minn., and while in a delicate condition was visited by her mother and induced to come to Venice. It was while she was in this condition, it is alleged, that Mrs. West was influenced to make the will against him by statements that he was a spendthrift and that he didn't care for her personally, but wanted only her money. The complainant admits that he married the girl in Memphis, Tenn., against the wishes of her mother, and says that he was never forgiven.

A cause for action mentioned in the complaint, and which may cause legal technicalities to arise which will annul the will, is that Mrs. West, at the time of her death, was not 21 years of age and, under the laws of Mississippi, her home State, was not capable, legally, of making a will.

MOSQUITOES HUM LIKE AIR CRAFT.

Realty Owner Says Terminal Island Workmen Resort to Net Headgear.

Mosquitoes are taking a part of Terminal Island by storm, according to a protest filed with the City Council yesterday by J. R. Pinkham, who owns property there. He asserted that one is justified in assuming at night that there is an air raid being made over the island.

Men working in the lumber yards are compelled to wear headgears of mosquito netting Pinkham stated. He asked that the Council do something to rid the island of the pests. The matter was referred to the Health Commissioner.

Unfortunate.

BRAIN TO BLAME.

Woman Held Not Guilty of Trying to Burn Apartment, the Jury Basing its Finding Upon Her Mental State. Hearing Later.

After deliberating for five hours, the jury in the case of Mrs. Henrietta Canfield, charged with attempted arson, reported to Superior Judge Jackson yesterday a verdict of not guilty, basing its belief on the woman's mental condition.

Mrs. Canfield is to report to Judge Jackson Monday for a final disposition of the case. Steps will then be taken for her protection.

The specific charge was that Mrs. Canfield attempted, in November, 1915, to destroy her hotel-apartment at No. 830 South Flower street, by burning it. Much evidence was introduced to show that such an effort was planned. More than 100 people were living in the apartment at the time.

By Stipulation.

PASADENA PAINTERS WIN OVER UNIONITE BOSSES.

PASADENA UNION NO. 92 of painters, decorators and paper hangers put the McCarthy-Tveitmoe-Johansen outfit over a barrel in Judge Trippet's court yesterday.

It was done through an innocent-appearing stipulation in the action brought by H. C. Bricker and 145 other members of the Pasadena organization against the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, to enjoin the parent organization from revoking the charter of the complainants for refusing to affiliate with the Building Trades Council, of which P. H. McCarthy has been the head for the last sixteen years.

The stipulation as finally agreed upon provides that the national body shall not revoke the charter of the Pasadena union at this time; that charges must be preferred against the members and that thirty days must elapse from the time such accusations are filed until the hearing be had.

The local body has fifteen days within which to answer the charges, and the latter must be taken before the executive board. When a decision is reached an appeal may be filed within fifteen days, and the party appealing must put up $1000 to pay for such appeal.

But the milk in the cocoanut is in another provision to the effect that sixty days after appeal a referendum vote shall be taken, and the members of the various unions throughout the country shall decide whether the judgment reported by the executive board is to be final. That is the point sought by the Pasadena union. William A. Spill, the attorney who presented the issues in behalf of the local union, said: "That is the last we shall hear of the effort to revoke the charter of No. 92. It is just what we wanted—left to the various members of the unions. It is just what the McCarthy bunch did not want."

The Pasadena union was said to have persistently refused to affiliate with the Building Trades Council, of which P. H. McCarthy is president; Olaf A. Tveitmoe, general secretary, and Anton Johansen, general organizer. McCarthy controls the union-labor situation in San Francisco.

It was declared the executive board of the brotherhood, consisting of George F. Hedrick and J. C. Skemp of Los Angeles, J. M. Finan of Chicago, Joseph F. Kelley of Philadelphia, Charles A. Cullen of Worcester, Mass.; Joseph F. Clarke of Tacoma, C. E. Swick of Memphis, Tenn., and A. E. Scott of Winnipeg, are but the creatures of the McCarthy-Tveitmoe-Johansen machine; that the Pasadena union members would have no chance before such a tribunal, and that they would be prejudged before trial before such a constituted committee. They were willing to refer the question to all members of the organization.

They also said that when they became members of the local union they took an oath not to allow any other organization to supplant its principles in their hearts, and this would be done if they became a part of the Building Trades Coun-

ROW OVER A POLICY.

Elderly Man Demands Big Damages from Alleged Intruder Who is Said to Have Demanded a Transfer of Insurance Without Authority.

Sensational features underlie the $100,000 damage suit of Ariosto McCrimmon, an elderly man, filed yesterday against S. Fast, through Attorney Harry K. Smith.

Knowing Mr. McCrimmon was elderly and feeble, the complaint alleges that last July 9 Mr. Fast, accompanied by O. A. Nicholas as a witness, called at the McCrimmon home, No. 2222 West Fifth street, and told Mr. McCrimmon and his wife to sign over to him a $10,000 insurance policy.

Mr. Fast was informed he had no claim on it, and was ordered from the house. It is said he became abusive and pounded on the door. Finally he forced his way into the room where Mr. McCrimmon was standing, it is alleged, which caused Mr. McCrimmon to swoon, and as a result his health has been injured, he claims.

ON FRAUD CHARGE.

Jesse Millard, charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud in impersonating John D. McIntyre for the purpose of securing a legacy about to be paid McIntyre by his uncle, Joseph McIntyre of Coalings, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Hammack yesterday and, in default of $1000 bond, was committed to the County Jail. His preliminary examination will be held this morning.

this board of attorneys in investigating all cases appealed, where the attorneys or the district board have reason to believe that the affidavits made by the person claiming exemption are not valid. It is understood that the most rigid investigations will be conducted into the appeals in districts Nos. 9 and 12, where hundreds of men were exempted on the ground that they had dependent wives only. Many of these wives are alleged to be independent of their husbands' incomes for support, being the daughters of wealthy parents who could not or would not become dependent on public charity in the event of their husbands being drafted.

The work of passing on the validity of the various classes of claims coming before the district board was begun yesterday by the four committees appointed to deal with each class of exemption that must be passed upon. Col. Holabird, who has charge of all industrial claims, stated yesterday that to date the board had received 800 claims for exemption. Fully 90 per cent. of these are of two classes—industrial, including agriculture, and dependent claims sent up from the local boards for final decision. All appeals from local boards will be handled by Joseph Scott; agricultural claims by Edward Fletcher, and medical appeals by Dr. Charles F. Ball.

NEW METHOD.

A new order of things relating to the treatment of military registrants who have failed to report to the exemption boards was put in effect yesterday, when, on the recommendation of Assistant United States District Attorney Swanson, a number of young men were discharged from custody after being told to report immediately to their exemption boards for examination. They were warned that if they failed to do this they would be subject to summary arrest and punishment by the military authorities and, further, that they would be automatically accepted if they did not report. They all gladly agreed to do so.

In several other instances men had registered before June 5, expecting to be out of the city on that day, and had never been furnished with cards. However, when an examination of the records disclosed the fact that they had registered before the regular day, and somebody at headquarters had forgotten to record the fact, they were given a number and a card and allowed to go.

The new regime of investigation and inquiry before making arrests is now in operation, and it is believed that hereafter there will be nobody taken into custody until it is shown that they are real slackers. It may take more time for this inquiry, it is stated, but it will be more satisfactory and avoid much hard feeling on the part of those who have been uselessly detained.

NEAR THE BRINK.

Dr. Colliver, Local Specialist, Who Underwent Two Operations a Few Days Ago, is Reported Very Low at Hospital Family at Bedside.

Hope for the recovery of Dr. John Adams Colliver, a well-known physician of Los Angeles, who recently underwent two operations at the Angelus Hospital, was practically abandoned late last night. His sister, Miss Lydia Colliver, and other members of the family are at his bedside.

Dr. Colliver, brother-in-law of Paul Shoup, and member of the Bachelors' Club, recently was operated upon, but before recovery had set in, double pneumonia developed and another operation became necessary. For the past two days and nights he has steadily declined.

The patient, a specialist in children's diseases, came here from San Bernardino several years ago.

Incorporating into a volume the result of some years of research into sociological conditions in Los Angeles, Dr. Emory S. This is the first full-sized volume printed by the recently-organized University of Southern California press.

RUNAWAY BOY TAUGHT LESSON.

Has to Work to Get Money to Pay His Fare Back to the Crown City.

[SPECIAL WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MOLTVILLE, Aug. 21.—Raymond Moffit, 22 years old, ran away from his home in Pasadena and went to work on a farm near here. He was discovered by his father today. Instead of taking the lad back with him, the father informed the youngster that work was good for him and insisted that he remain on the ranch until he had accumulated enough money to pay his fare to Pasadena, as a lesson to him on the evils of running away. The boy is milking cows.

ARMY WORK IS TOO STRENUOUS.

Recently-resigned County Health Officer Gets His Old Job Back.

Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, who resigned as County Health Officer, some weeks ago, to become an army surgeon, was reappointed to the office by the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Dr. Pomeroy was stationed at Fort Riley, where 15,000 men were in camp, with 250 doctors to attend to them. The doctors were on duty from early morning until 10 o'clock at night, every day in the week, and the work was too strenuous for Dr. Pomeroy. As a result he broke down in health and was forced to retire. During his absence Dr. Dirks was acting county health officer.

Children Playing with Fire Cause Destruction.

When fire broke out in her apartment late yesterday, Mrs. Anna Woloff of No. 3909½ Pasadena avenue fought her way into the bedroom where her father, August Gunther, 84 years old, was enjoying his afternoon siesta. She wrapped his arms around her neck and dragged him down the stairs and to a place of safety in the street while the firemen from station No. 1 battled successfully with the blaze.

The fire is believed to have originated from a brush blaze with which several children are said to have been amusing themselves near the alley back of the building. A small shed at the rear of the grocery which occupied the first floor of the building was first ignited.

Flames leaped from the shed to the rear of the second story, where Mrs. Woloff and her father resided. The hall was ablaze and was filled with stifling smoke before Mrs. Woloff discovered that her home was burning and that her father's life was in danger. Hardly knowing how she accomplished the feat, she braved the flames and dragged her enfeebled parent into the street while hundreds of bystanders cheered.

The building is owned by George Dobin of No. 136 East Avenue 45. All the rooms at the rear of the apartment on the second floor were gutted and much furniture was ruined. Toni Gubitosi, who conducts a shoe repair shop near by, suffered some loss to his stock and equipment.

Famous Men Identified With California's History

The topography of California was an open book to Kit Carson. There was no part left unexplored by this famous guide and military scout. It is said that he led a charmed life, as he moved at will among the hostile tribes of Indians without molestation. As a scout he rendered invaluable services to the country, and many a military leader in the days of trouble with the Indians and during the Mexican war, owed a large part of his success to the timely assistance of Kit Carson.

TAX DISPUTE ON.

Pasadena Objects to Paying Money to the County.

The city of Pasadena has petitioned the State Board of Equalization for a reduction of taxes paid on lands outside of the corporate limits of the city. To meet this appeal and defend the county's right to tax this property, County Assessor Hopkins and County Counsel Hill will leave for Sacramento to appear before the board Friday.

The county collects $1000 in taxes.

The petition is important in view of the amendment to the State Constitution which permits the taxing of property owned by cities outside of their corporate limits.

ON THE RADIANT RIALTO

IN AND OUT OF OUR BRILLIANT MARTS OF FASHION.

By Olive Gray.

Now is the time to buy:

The one more piece of furniture for whatever corner of your home needs a bit of refurnishing. No season can pass in any well-regulated home without something added to or changed, if one would keep up with the times; and now is the time to buy and to save money in buying.

The appurtenances and appliances for preserving fruits and vegetables. If one watches carefully, one may save money on jars, kettles and whatever utensils are needed for the work and that saving is the rule in putting up fruits even with the present high cost of sugar, no one doubts who has tried both going without and stocking the fruit shelves.

The first hat of the season. Upon its chic depends the success of the early weeks of fall, so far as one's satisfaction with one's clothes is concerned. Several of the leading milliners have arrived with the first extractions from the eastern markets for exacting Angelenos.

If your patriotism needs a jolt, listen to the achievement of a woman in Victoria who has knitted seventy-eight pairs of socks for soldiers in one month, and has won the prize in the stock knitting competition, instituted by a firm in the patriotic northern city.

Another lady there, Mrs. R. H. Brown, celebrated her eighty-second birthday recently by knitting a sock. She has averaged to knit one sock per day and has sometimes knitted two, ever since the outbreak of the war. These articles are regulation, meeting with official requirements, and forwarded by a society organized for the purpose of sending practical comforts to the soldiers somewhere in France.

Out They Go!

They have made up their minds that everything shall be sold this week in that Hill-street place which has been a big furniture store, but is so very anxious to become a dry goods house that it just doesn't care whats it does to attain its end.

Odd chairs, tables, desks, dressers, beds, draperies, rugs, in fact, something for almost any place in the home, may still be found there, but a few of a kind—possibly only one—which in nowise hurts your cause if that is the one you want. The quality, as every one knows, is above reproach, and always has been in that establishment. It is just that the place does not want to be a furniture house any longer, and is bound not to be—and not to be, very pronto.

Secretive Trunks.

If you have a trunk need, of course, you will assuage it at that great sale. If not, you deserve to go trunkless all your days, for you have willfully missed opportunity—just passed it blindly by.

There is every kind of trunk for every occasion, and all—of course—wardrobe, for no one ever thinks of anything else nowadays, for general use. And, by the way—did you know there is a wardrobe trunk so secretive that even your most prying relative-in-law would never suspect how to unlock it? Ask the man.

Wrist Time.

"What time is it by your pulse?" This is the question sometimes asked by the girl who is unfortunate as not to possess a wrist watch. And when you come to think of it—isn't that most pertinent? If you are up to the latest moment—fully alive and in step with the moving ranks—you do have a wrist watch and are thus enabled to keep well aware of time and on the dot with your appointments. In other words, wrist-watchfulness is the watchword of the time—and, by the way, you have noticed how cheaply you may attain to a really good one, at a truly trustworthy place?

Electricising Housework.

"There!" exclaimed Evelyn, with a sigh of satisfaction, as she undid a package—"I mean a bundle. "This is the final item in the electricising of my housework." Work, with Evelyn, always means the easiest way of doing things and so I was interested, for so many of us habitually take the hardest way.

What her package contained was the very newest kind of electric flatiron. "I borrowed Edith's while she vacationed, and since then I have known that there was one especial way of saving money which simply must be mine," said Evelyn. "And so when I saw the advertisement of that sale of the best and hottest-pointed irons for what Jack declares to be wholesale price, without an added cent for war time, I joined an early-morning rush on that big store and came out triumphant. I shall save the price of the iron in doing up my best blouses, stocks and collars and shall then begin to save for one of those soldier comfort kits. And then," she added as an afterthought, "the saving on the blouses themselves will be inestimable, for Edith tells me hers last nearly three times as long since she has taken to home-laundering them."

White Loveliness.

In an art department of a popular store my attention was arrested by a new ware which is so lovely it set me to thinking that white flowers would be exquisite when placed in vases of this iridescent beauty. The surface of the well-shaped vases and urns is smooth and white with just a faintest shimmer of opalescence, tinting to rose, and oh, how beautiful would be a dozen or so of tall, white, faintly-flushed roses when standing knee-deep in one of those receptacles!

Amazingly Dow!

If there's anything in cut-glassness that you need, or even want, you will never again have as good an opportunity to buy as during that move-away sale of a big house-furnishing store on upper Broadway. Scarcely believable are the prices for handsome pieces of cut and etched glass! Sweet dishes, entire sets for fruit, water pitchers and glasses, even those supreme luxuries, fat decanters with flocks of mysterious glasses to match, are there at prices scarcely more than for plain glass. You'll find the place by the big placards which declare for clearing out.

Open to You.

During that clearance at the big store on Broadway a number of patterns in open-stock dinnerware are selling for half price. In case yours happens to be among the patterns, you may fill out at a great saving. Many very beautiful designs are among the services to be thus closed out. Some are of the finest imported china, fast ascending in cost.

Dame Fashion's Whispering.

Footing is a favored trimming for lingerie.

Hats of batiste are worn with serge frocks.

Duvetyn bags are embroidered in bright colors.

Little girls' dresses are made on tailored lines.

Tunics will be a feature of the autumn models.

Close-fitting turbans of white satin are worn.

All black bathing suits have white collar and vest.

White is the fashionable color for evening hats.

It is hinted that waistcoats are a coming feature.

Sports hats have brims of plain color and crowns of checked material.

So many of the crowns of the new hats are on tam-o'-shanter lines.

Bathing suits were never so gay in color and design as they are at this moment.

Bands of velvet around the bottom of an evening coat give richness and weight.

Many sports hats are simply trimmed with a crushed band of dotted foulard.

Braided sports hats are fashionable.

Odd silk coats will be popular for fall.

The rounded neck line is the newest.

Cretonne hats have Chinese brims of velour.

The pleated skirt is again having a triumph.

MOROSCO ACTIVITIES.

JACK LAIT'S NEW PLAY SHOWS GREAT PROMISE.

By Grace Kingsley.

Despite the war, the food control bill and the scarcity of gasoline, the Morosco activities in the West move right along like the w. k. brook. Yesterday announcement was made from the Morosco offices that Jack Lait, who is in town with his new play, will shortly aid Fred Butler in its production. The name of the new play is "One of Us," and it promises to be an even greater sensation than "Help Wanted," which created a furore at the time of its production a few seasons ago. The new play is said likewise to deal with every-day characters, and to be rife with interesting types.

Down at the Morosco Theater "Bunker Bean" is being rehearsed with "Gasoline Gus" Dix in the leading role. Dix declares he is studying his role every night with a wet towel around his head, this role furnishing his first really big chance in the drama since he came west. Minna Gombel, Nancy Fair, Douglas MacLean and others have leading roles, in addition to whom some new people have been hired.

Among the newcomers is Maude George, who, during the past two years has become more and more famous in the playing of "heavy" roles in Universal Bluebird features. Miss George, besides having a desire to see whether she had forgotten how to speak lines, also wished to give her eyes a rest, the glare of the lights at the picture studios having rendered her almost blind for a time.

The first week of "The Cinderella Man" at the Morosco Theater beat every record of that house, according to the statement of the truthful Billie Ervast, who presides over box-office affairs at the Morosco.

Oliver Morosco is in New York at present, overseeing the launching of his new plays at the Morosco Theater, and of the formation of his road companies.

Superba.

Almost unheralded by the sounding brass of the press agent and the tinkling cymbal of the house management, there is unrolling itself at the Superba this week one of the most deliciously quaint, human and humorous film comedies the Rialto has ever seen. "Mr. Opp" is its name; it is taken from Alice Hegan Rice's story. It has an O. Henry charm of freshness, drollery and warm human quality.

Maybe you remember the story, and its types—Mr. Opp, the quixotic, incurably honest and unworldly, the poor, pathetic half-mad little Klopp, whom the author describes as "like a harp with all its strings broken except the high one of ecstasy and the low one of despair." The story itself has to do with the adventures of Mr. Opp as the owner of a little paper in a tiny "whiffless" southern town.

The photoplay is done in exactly the right key, thanks to the artistic acting throughout sincere, convincing and natural. Arthur Hoyt has given a characterization of the gentle, lovable, middle-aged Mr. Opp which is a real contribution to film art. As for Alice Maison, who plays the pathetic little Kippy—there is a quality of poignant appeal in her work, a fine dramatic sense which reminds one of Mae Marsh in her best moments. I never remember a moment of more vivid appeal than her heartbroken look and gesture when, bullying her brother is about to send her to the asylum, she clasps her doll to her flat little breast and runs, terror-stricken, to hide in the boat till darkness shall obscure her flight.

The Times-Universal Animated Weekly presented a tremendously interesting programme, and Lee Moran and Eddie Lyons appear in a funny comedy.

Hippodrome.

While the absence of anything in the line of a "punch" may be evident in the programme at the Hippodrome this week, there is nevertheless a splendid brand of entertainment presented. Ned Nestor and His Sweethearts offer a clever melange of songs, dances and nonsense. Roth and Roberts, terming themselves "The Wop and the Cop" ramble through a routine of clever sags. Story and Clark with music and songs prove likable, while Eddie Sisto with clown appearance and juggling gives a capital introduction to the programme. Of interest to both the boys and girls, Bessie La Count sings clever character songs in a manner quite different from the usual run. With a misleading introduction Leonard and Louie quickly jump into a routine of difficult balancing. Completing the list the Flying Venus is a mysterious aerial feature. Hearst-Pathe News with topical views of interest is, as usual, included.

Symphony.

You who have seen Emmy Wehlen merely as injured innocence—the chest-heaving, eye-rolling victim of melodramatic villainy—will hardly recognize her in the role of a curly-haired cutie. Nevertheless that's the sort of role she plays—and very engagingly she does it, too—in "Miss Robinson Crusoe," at the Symphony this week.

Ever since Mr. Shakespeare had a bright hunch and wrote "The Taming of the Shrew," we have had the same theme in various forms, down to its modern shape, "The Misleading Lady." "Miss Robinson Crusoe" is a spoiled little society miss, who is wearied of the tango ilsrds of her own set, and who, during her stay at a summer home in the Thousand Islands, goes down to the pier every day to admire a porter who heaves trunks about. The young society hero in love with her becomes disgruntled and carries her off to one of the other islands. Here there is an anti-government plot hatching, and Miss Crusoe is re-kidnaped by the plotters; but from them her husky hero, the society man, saves her, with the inevitable matrimonial result.

There are an abundance of comedy situations, many thrills, and some very lovely photographic marvels in "Miss Robinson Crusoe."

A Sidney Drew comedy, a chapter of "The Gray Ghost," and a news pictorial add charm to an already pleasing programme.

"Hero Comes the Bride" Arrives.

Proving that there is room for all at the top, comes a telegram from Manager Joseph Montrose of the Klaw and Erlanger offices, reporting that an audience company which combined both quality and quantity viewed with strong approval the first performance of "Here Comes the Bride," in San Diego last Monday night. Those who scored individual hits were Bertha Mann, Grace Travers, Beatrice Nichols and Miss Morgan, while the men of the company also showed to tremendous advantage. The show, even as early as Tuesday morning, was practically sold out for the remainder of the engagement.

Help Wanted.

Kathleen Clifford, who breaks into Orpheum vaudeville next week, is having trouble getting her new full dress suit. The women tailors can't make it and the men tailors say she is so small that none of their patterns fits her. She faces the dire fear of having to don a "hand-me-down." Unless some pocket Adonis of the city comes to her rescue!

Next!

All the traditions about Friday being an unlucky day are true, take it from two members of the Morosco company. David Butler, who assists his talented dad in putting on the Morosco plays, went bathing at Venice last Friday afternoon, and sprained his ankle on a high wave. But Dave says art shall never falter, even though he, its humble votary, does have to go about on crutches for a time; in other words, he hasn't missed a day from his post.

Also on Friday evening, last, Lillian Elliott fell through the trap door on the stage, just as she was about to exit. She fell to the cement floor in the cellar beneath, and was so badly bruised that she fainted three times during the evening, but pluckily kept on with her role. Now everybody is wondering who is going to be the third to have an accident, some even venturing to prophesy it will be Dix, especially if he doesn't stop inviting members of the company to ride with him in his "tin Lizzie."

Just Couldn't Do It.

Mary Pickford declared yesterday that her Irish blood is up, and she just longs to go and take a whack at the Germans, especially after the things she saw in "The Little American."

"But after all, I know I couldn't do it! I'd just walk up to the trenches and get ready to fire, when a nice-looking, red-cheeked German would stick his head up, and I just know I couldn't shoot him. I know I'd just say to him, 'Oh, come on and have tea!'"

Butler has Exciting Experience.

Fred Butler, stage director at the Morosco, left his automobile on Broadway night before last, too near a corner. When he came forth from the production of "The Cinderella Man" he found a notice to report to the police station the next day. One of his friends told him that someone was just playing a joke on him. Mr. Butler slept late yesterday morning—so late, in fact, that when he woke up he was looking at a policeman who was sitting calmly beside his bed.

"The judge wants to see you," said the intruder.

"But I can't go to court in my pajamas. It isn't being done," protested Butler.

Thereupon the policeman helped him dress and Butler drove to the police station and proceeded to go through the fourth act of "Within the Law." From now on he will believe in signs, particularly if he finds them hanging on his automobile.

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.

The Bulgarian authorities have issued a manifesto to their Serbian prisoners which raises the cost of liberty to the last degree. "Any attempt to escape will render you liable, in addition to the death penalty, to the burning of your homes, the confiscation of your property and the deportation of your families." So runs the order, according to a report from the Serbian press bureau.

Ruthlessness, conducted with complete and embracing efficiency, seems to be very contagious.

Would it be possible for a democratic government to issue such an order under any possible circumstances?

WHAT GERMANY WILL GET.

The Balkan policy of Austria-Hungary was the immediate cause of the war, and Germany suffered Austria to take the lead in inaugurating hostilities. It would be proper therefore now that Austria should take the initiative in an endeavor for peace.

The most that Germany now expects to obtain from the war is the sovereignty of Bulgaria, the control of the straits by the Sultan, retention of Alsace and Lorraine, recovery of her African colonies and exemption from payment of indemnities.

The least that she can obtain will be the loss of Alsace and Lorraine and of her African colonies, with no control of Bulgaria or of the Dardanelles and—unless she parts with "me und Gott"—the continued hatred of the civilized world.

THE TRAITOR'S REWARD.

Federal Judge Manton rightly characterized as "a most heinous crime" the action of those members of an eastern exemption board who were sentenced to two years in prison for granting exemptions to men from whom they had accepted money. In addition to the prison sentences they were fined $10,000 each but the fines were remitted at the request of an assistant United States District Attorney who said that the government does not need any tainted money. In a country of 100,000,000 people it is inevitable that there should be a few men whose ideals are not above financial gain, but the heart of America is sound and the evidence of this is to be found in the fact that neither money nor political influence can avail to save men found guilty of traitorous action.

SANE REFORMATION.

Gov. Arnulfo Gonsales of Chihuahua, who recently visited Los Angeles, says that he has succeeded in regulating every saloon in the state which he governs and that his plan is to eventually close all the saloons and establish schools in their places. "I did not wish to close the saloons all at once," he said, "because of the suffering that would be caused persons apparently hopelessly in the grasp of the drink habit. If they are closed gradually it will be better for both proprietors and people. Regulate them all, close a few and finally obliterate them entirely, that is my plan." Here is a case in which wisdom and purpose are working hand in hand and there is little question that this combination will be able to accomplish, in a reasonable time, reformations which fanaticism would never be capable of bringing about.

SINKING PARTISANSHIP.

It is claimed by President Wilson that it is the duty of patriotic Republicans to lay aside their party affiliations and even their party principles and support him in all his measures of war and peace. But Mr. Wilson does not admit that there is any corresponding obligation on his part to lay aside his politics or to appoint to any position, from Cabinet officer to Consul to Timbuctoo, or from Supreme Justice to Deputy District Attorney, any but an A one, copper-bottomed and copper-fastened Democrat.

A first-class indorsement of a veteran applicant for a Federal office would read, "This old gentleman is a sure-pop Democrat. He favored the extension and perpetuation of human slavery. He favored a surrender of the Union. He favored practical repudiation of the national debt by an unlimited issue of irredeemable currency. He favored free trade. He favored free silver. He favored every fantasy in finance, every insanity in political philosophy and every phase in fool politics that was ever engendered in the diseased brain of a Democratic leader, from Buchanan to Bryan or from Toombs to Vardaman."

Let no Republican lay aside his Republicanism. Let him keep it in cold storage, if necessary; but let him keep it. Since its first issue The Times has advocated and defended the principles of Republicanism—unhyphenated, unadulterated, radical, Old Guard Republicanism. The banner of industrial freedom that covered it at its birth now hangs upon the outer walls of the castle which it erected above the ruins of its dynamited structure. Its cradle song is the anthem of its stalwart manhood. The spirit of its indomitable founder animates it, and let who will falter in devotion to the principles of Republicanism, it will not falter; let who will fail in upholding the banner of industrial freedom, it will not fall.

RIOTING, ARSON AND SABOTAGE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Rioting in the streets of San Francisco and brutal assaults of independent workmen, while the rioters are protected by the police—such are the conditions that now prevail in the union ridden and boss ridden northern metropolis. Men are dying in the city hospitals whose only offense was to run street cars over lines operated under a franchise granted by the municipality; street car tracks have been torn up by rioting strikers; motors worth many thousands of dollars each have been ruined; cars have been smashed; the homes of street car men have been stoned; threats of murder have been followed by felonious assaults—yet the city administration has not discovered that there is any "unusual disturbance."

When the Chief of Police was appealed to by the street railroad company, after the company's cars on Market street had been tied up for more than an hour by a mob of strikers who were simply marching and countermarching across the company's tracks at a given point, the Chief is said to have asked that the complaint be reduced to writing and filed with his secretary on the following day. Ten platform men have been beaten up by armed Huns in broad daylight in the heart of the city; three workers are reported to be dying; yet there has not been a single assailant arrested. Four gun men entered a car at a Church-street crossing and proceeded to beat the motorman and conductor over the head with iron bars. A passenger on the car appealed to a crossing policeman to call aid lest the men be killed outright. He is reported to have replied: "I'm no scab strike-breaker; I'm here to protect the crossing; it'll be a good lesson to them, anyhow."

Mayor Rolph and his labor union associates have turned the streets over to the strikers. The only activity of the police so far reported has been to search all the employees of the United Railroads for concealed weapons. Frank Dougherty left Los Angeles for San Francisco last Thursday. On Saturday morning he went to work for the United Railroads as a guard at the Turk-street car barns. Saturday afternoon he was threatened by union strikers and when he went to work Saturday night he carried a revolver. As he left the car barns he was stopped by plain clothes policemen and his gun was taken from him. He had walked less than a block after being relieved of his weapon when he was attacked by four armed brutes. He was beaten about the head with an iron bar, his jaw was broken, his skull was fractured and he was left in the gutter for dead. Citizens carried him to the sidewalk and he was taken to a private hospital in a private ambulance. No policemen were to be found. The plain clothes men disappeared as soon as they took Dougherty's weapon from him.

Monday forenoon two cars were stopped in the center of the city by armed rascals in the employ of the labor unions. The platform men were beaten and when one of them broke away from the gunmen three shots were fired after him. A riot call was sounded and two automobile loads of police appeared; they proceeded to hold up a taxi containing six workers who had been hurried to the scene from the offices of the United Railroads. The six were arrested for carrying concealed weapons. Not one of the criminals who had attacked the platform men was apprehended.

When President Lilienthal of the United Railroads secured additional men from outside cities and prepared to care for them in the car barns of the company during the strike, city and State deputies immediately interfered. They inspected the car barns and reported that the buildings did not conform to the regulations of the State Tenement-house Act. The police were promptly called upon to enforce the strict letter of that act. Yet the provisions were much better than those in the barracks for the enlisted men who are preparing for service in France.

Mayor Rolph's secretary replied to all complaints to the Mayor's office that they have been notified by the Chief of Police of "no unusual disturbance." The cars are operated under a franchise granted by the city. Mayor Rolph and every other elected member of the city administration are sworn to do their utmost to preserve the peace. For the second time within ten years the United Railroads is called upon to protect its property against gun men in the employ of the notorious Union Labor Council of San Francisco and its associated villainies, the labor unions. It is not easy for the railroad company to secure men to take the places of the strikers, for the reason that the strikers are known to be under the protection of the police, while every employee of the railroad company found carrying a weapon for his own protection is thrown into jail. The strikers flourish their guns and are unmolested.

Mayor Rolph was originally elected to office by the business interests of San Francisco on personal pledges that he would rigidly enforce the law and that all malefactors would be treated alike. But the Mayor has proved to be an oily politician who hopes to use his union influence, as Hiram Johnson used it, to become Governor of California. It is reported that at nearly every meeting of the strikers the Mayor is cheered as "the next Governor of California." Probably his platform will be that of a street car stained by the blood of independent workmen who were struck down at their post of duty by gun men operating under the protection of the San Francisco police force.

With the Jap warships joining the Allied fleet off Kiel, isn't it about time for the dragging of the German fleet "out of the trap like rats" in the interest of the early closing of the war?

Quite a number of Republicans are at work in Washington on the activities growing out of the war, but in most instances there is no salary attached to the job.

What is the Answer?

VISIT THE HARBOR.

Every citizen who dwells within the five-mile radius from First and Broadway should consider it one of his duties—and it will be a pleasure too—to make periodical visits to the harbor. There are lots of Los Angeles people who have dwelt for years within the theater belt but have never gone to either San Pedro or Wilmington.

These people know that Los Angeles has a harbor because they have read about it in the newspapers. At the best, however, their ideas regarding it are hazy. Many of them make weekly trips in their automobiles or by street car to Venice or Long Beach but they avoid the harbor, which, to persons who have eyes that can see and ears that can hear, is the most interesting of all the Coast points in Southern California.

It is not to be denied that in the first two years of the war Los Angeles Harbor was a quiet place. It was charming but sleepy. This was owing to the fact that the big ocean-going ships had ceased to call as it was infinitely more profitable to use them on the Atlantic.

But in the last few months a wonderful change has come over the spirit of the harbor. The angel of shipbuilding has walked upon the waters and ruffled the calm. Los Angeles capitalists have established, or are constructing, shipyards which will turn out some of the big freighters and other vessels so urgently needed by the government.

In addition, men of the army and navy have been concentrated there and they add just the touch which makes the new Los Angeles Harbor typical of the period. And it's a marvelous period despite the terrors which accompany its development.

THE DEATH OF FEUDALISM.

One of the disappearances that will result from the defeat of Germany and the destruction of military autocracy in central Europe, will be the end of feudalism and feudal tenures to land in Germany and Austria and adjacent countries.

Landlordism of agricultural lands disappeared many years ago in France, and has year after year diminished in the British Islands, but in Germany the greater portion of the soil is tilled by tenant farmers who pay their rent in money, in farm produce or in personal services to the landlord.

There is but little tenant farming in the eastern States of our country and scarcely any in California. Feudalism is an exotic that withered and died on the soil of America, and the single tax project of Henry George, by which the State was to own the fee of all the land, and farmers and the owners of skyscrapers to be only tenants, never appealed to the American.

Japanese and Chinese are content to be tenants of the soil they cultivate. But the American demands ownership as an incentive to effort. He demands that he shall be able to say "this piece of earth is mine; from the seething fires below to the shining stars above, it is mine; the plash of the waters is my music; the breezes that rustle through the foliage of the trees are my breezes; the house I have built on this land is my house; the fences that divide the fields are my fences; the verdure of the lawn, and the golden gleam of the harvest field, and the fruit of the orchard I have planted are all mine. I will not be the vassal or the tenant of either a government or a man."

The prospector will never consent to hold as a lessee the lode he has discovered. When a prophyry horse intrudes its obnoxious presence into the quartz lode the miner does not abandon his claim; with the eye of faith he sees the auriferous quartz "come in again" below, and with drill and hammer and dynamite he goes down, down, down a hundred, five hundred, a thousand feet in search of the sulphides at the water level. Would he undertake this work on leased ground? Would he when he is mining in pay rock cheerfully submit to the supervision of a government inspector, who would overhaul his books, and overlook his clean-up, and poke his meddlesome nose into his business in pursuit of government royalties, or a private graft, or both?

Suppose California had been conserved in 1849 and the government had stationed inspectors and collectors, and companies of infantry in the gulches, so that no man could mine without procuring a license, and no miner could have used the metal he extracted without first having the government's share taken from his "pile!" Would the Argonauts have laid broad and deep the foundations of a prosperous State?

Suppose that the redwood and pine forests of the mountains had been strictly conserved, so that the houses in the valleys and in the towns had been built of adobes as they were before American occupation. Suppose that the public lands had been withheld from settlement by homesteaders and offered for lease to tenant farmers—would the Pacific Coast have made such mighty strides that it requires seven transcontinental roads to handle its commerce?

To ask these questions is to answer them.

HOOVER AND GARFIELD.

Herbert C. Hoover has won the confidence of thousands of business men throughout the country by his statement concerning the proposed method of enforcing the new food conservation act. "The food administration is called into being to stabilize, not to disturb conditions," announced Mr. Hoover after his appointment by President Wilson. "In enforcing the measures of the act it is not our intention to proceed with a host of punitive measures but rather by co-ordination with the various trades to effect such constructive regulations as will render gambling, extortion and other wasteful practices impossible, and will stabilize prices."

This policy is a refreshing change from that which has been pursued in California when it has been a question of State regulation and control. The first step has always been to pass a mass of punitive legislation, often actuated by a desire for political revenge, which is intended to reduce private industry to a state of vassalage. It never seems to have occurred to any of the dictators of our thirty California commissions that they were appointed to co-operate with private industry in place of menacing and harassing it.

Going into the details of the plan, Mr. Hoover says that it is intended "to defend honest enterprise against illegitimate competition; it has been devised to correct the abnormalities and abuses that have crept into trade by reason of the world disturbance and to restore business, as far as may be possible, to a reasonable basis."

But Mr. Hoover is not likely to find his labors lightened by some of the appointments that the President has made under the food regulation act. After selecting Mr. Hoover, the President had recourse again to his private visiting list and the roster of Princeton University. At the head of the committee of producers and consumers who will have charge of fixing a maximum price for wheat, the President placed a member of his old Princeton faculty, Dr. Harvey A. Garfield. After the President left Princeton Dr. Garfield became president of Williams College, a position that he still holds.

This selection of Dr. Garfield has occasioned some surprise in the East among those who have not followed closely the Wilson appointments. It had been expected that the President would place at the head of the Wheat Committee some one who had been identified with that industry. It has also been noted that Dr. Garfield had been a consistent pacifist up to the time that war was actually declared against Germany, having been referred to repeatedly as a German sympathizer. Dr. Garfield was due for an appointment, however, as he was one of the very few men formerly with the President at Princeton who are not now holding an appointive Federal office.

The slush that some of the sob-sistering newspaper writers are giving the public about that hopeless child that was not saved by its doctor for a life of misery is disgusting. ABOLISH "PORK BARREL."

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]
BY JAMES A. FREAR,
Representative in Congress from Wisconsin.

THIS country has the finest natural inland waterway system in the world. We have expended the larger part of $900,000,000 on it, more money than any other country has spent on similar projects, yet we have less to show for the investment. Even the New York barge canal, built at a cost of nearly $150,000,000, not counted in the above amount, may be of doubtful utility, according to well-informed waterways authorities living in that State.

Waterway expenditures, national or State, under present political conditions, have little relation to commercial use.

Every year Congress blindly, aimlessly dumps millions of dollars into countless creeks, shallow and shifting rivers and canals in a manner that would wreck any private business in a week's time. Few of the projects would pass if presented singly, or if left to the Appropriations Committee, or to a budget system. If any similar private transportation, manufacturing or other business were to be undertaken, experts familiar with the business end of the proposition would first be placed on the job—not river lobbyists who figure in waterway associations, or army engineers enjoying a soft snap removed from actual danger, or Cabinet officers, but real experts.

Applying like methods to our government waterways projects is one of the essentials in doing away with scandalous "pork-barrel" legislation.

Let us first suppose communities at home are ready to accept a practical instead of a potential use of waterways, not to reduce rail rates by fictitious water competition, or secure government expenditures for local contractors and other selfish interests, but for actual commercial use. Then let us suppose that the local community will refrain from demanding that its Representative be required to fight for "his share" of money from the Federal treasury. When ready to take up the subject intelligently, unhampered by politics or influence, a board of nonpartisan experts should be selected, perhaps appointed by the President, to determine present and future waterway needs. That board should be composed of men familiar with real commercial and transportation needs; men with some knowledge of European waterways, which have more failures than successes to their credit, and with some definite understanding of causes for our own innumerable inland waterway failures. A board of this character, with fixed powers and duties, fashioned on the lines of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has been proposed under H. R. 332, Sixty-fifth Congress, first session.

Under the provision of the bill that board would take over all government property used in waterway improvement and it would employ civil engineers and such army engineers as might be spared by the War Department. The board would undertake an intelligent survey of conditions, including probable commerce, best craft to be used, ownership and character of terminals, and any data regarding private waterpower or private land reclamation schemes now carried on at government expense under the cloak of improvement for navigation. Power to require local contributions from interests especially benefited should also be conferred. The board would be authorized also to build experimental craft, determine reasonableness of wharfage and terminal charges on both rivers and harbors. Where unprofitable railway rates are maintained to prevent legitimate waterway competition, the board would report to the Interstate Commerce Commission with recommendation that Congress give power to the latter, if need be, when and where to fix minimum railway rates.

Public service should be the first question determined. Railways and waterways should be co-ordinated, and government regulation of rates and service should be exercised over waterways as well as railways. If waterway transportation lines are owned by railways, then the railways should be required to maintain efficient and reasonable waterway service. Arbitrarily to prohibit railways from owning or controlling waterway transportation lines is of no service to the public, standing alone, and ordinarily of little actual service to independent boat owners.

All these facts should be intelligently considered and reports made to Congress by the board, together with recommended appropriations for real commercial projects. These projects should be placed on a continuing contract basis and be completed without delay. All recommendations of the board should be considered by the Appropriations Committee and be made part of an annual financial budget.

Congress is criticised because of its failure to adopt business methods, and no possible defense can be offered for river and harbor or public building "pork-barrel" appropriations, but the fault rests primarily with the people "back home." A community wants a public building for some country cross roads or an appropriation to help out needy contractors on some uncommercial mud creek, water-power scheme, private land reclamation project, or private harbor. No intelligent estimate of commercial needs is offered, but the Congressman is told he must get the appropriation for Jerkwater Crossroads, or Jim Crow Creek, or get out. Lobbies come to Washington, Senators and Representatives go before the Board of Engineers to put over the project, and the contents of the committee are pulled until the project is inserted. Then the slogan is "United we stand, divided we fall." The fault rests primarily with human nature that wants something for nothing from the government treasury.

ADVANCE IN OIL SHARES DESPITE BEAR PRESSURE.

Mexican Petroleum Makes Gross Gain of Five Points, and These, with Shippings and Tobaccos, are Almost the Sole Elements of Strength—Government Policy Regarding Coolers is Chief Deterrent Factor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Traders made free use today of various developments calculated to exert an unfavorable influence upon the stock market. Chief of these were the more definite policy outlined by the government toward the coal trade and producers, and the urgent financial requirements of equipment and munitions companies. New low records for Delaware and Hudson and New Haven, at 100¼ and 30½, respectively, were not without their sentimental effect. New York Central, Reading, Canadian Pacific, Chicago and Northwestern, Atlantic Coast Line, and many of the low-priced rails also made gross recessions of 1 to 2 points. Bethlehem Steel, new stock, bore the brunt of the concerted drive against industrials, its extreme loss of points, with a later rally of 3, resulting from threatened selling based upon reports regarding the new financing. Related shares yielded 1 to 3 points. United States Steel faring better than others of the same class on its net loss of point at 1.23½. The motors, oils, teas and kindred war descriptions felt the weight of bear pressure, combined with occasional liquidation, recessions in these and less specific issues, ranging from 1 to almost 6 points. Oils, notably Mexican Petroleum, which made a gross gain of 5 points, together with shippings and tobaccos, were almost the sole element of strength. Total sales, 1,250,000 shares.

Calling of loans by some of the big financial institutions and private bankers created a firmer tone in call money, but time rates were easier. Bonds were lower in the main, the Liberty issue showing steadiness. Sales, at 99.86 to 99.96. Total sales, par value, $2,950,000. United States bonds, old issues, were unchanged on call.

BUSINESS TALKS TO WOMEN.

BY ELLEN LANE SPROUL, Author of "The Efficient Secretary."

It Is Best to Make the Decision Right Now.

If you are at the place where you leave little things in your day's job undone because they seem to you unimportant, or because you think the doing of them will not be fully appreciated anyway, you have reached the place where you can take real pleasure in knowing your work is done thoroughly and well when you leave at the closing time each night.

Do you know the reason for this? Is it the job you are holding, or the job you are holding no longer? If you are sure it is the job you are holding, the only cure for such a condition is for you to set out and seek another job, and the sooner you make the change, the better for you and your present employer.

The world is full of advisers (by the way, have you noticed that those with the greatest habit of advising have accomplished little themselves?) and no matter what anyone tells you, you alone can decide whether you are happy and content where you are, and in the last analysis you alone are responsible for your failure or success.

No matter what you feel to be your duty, do not remain in a job you cannot enthuse over, when you are able to change to one where you can be happy. The time to decide is not a year from now or a month from now—the time to make the decision is right now, and right now is the best time to lay your plans for moving on to something better.

THRIFT

It is as much the duty of every citizen of a nation at war to be thrifty as for her soldiers to fight.

Thrift means the getting of the utmost value out of every resource, material, property and energy in the living of a man, beautiful and unselfishly useful life. Make your surplus funds do their share. Place them where they will earn the highest returns available with the utmost safety.

THE RUBBER MARKET: PRICES IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 21.—The gradual weakening of prices in the local crude rubber market continues as a result of the lack of interest on the part of buyers. Not only are the plantations easier than at this time a week ago, but the Brazilians are losing some of the firmness they showed recently. First latex was held at 65 cents today, with smoked sheets quoted a cent less than this. A good inquiry for these sorts for 1918 shipment is reported, but there are no sellers at the prices buyers want to pay. In the Brazilians up-river fine spot was quoted today at 68½, with spot lots of up-river coarse and upper Caucho ball held, respectively, at 43 and 40.

FLAXSEED MARKET IN THE NORTHWEST.

At Duluth trading was nominal, but operators are preparing for active operations on the resumption of open trading tomorrow. The feeling is bullish. The options closed unchanged all around at 3.30 bid, with the distant December future at 3.40. Closing: Linseed on track, 3.65; in store, 3.45; to arrive, 3.45; September, 3.30 bid; October, 3.30 bid; November, 3.30 bid; December, 3.40.

WHITTIER ASKS FOR LOWER GAS RATE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Aug. 21.—Members of the State Railway Commission will be in Whittier tomorrow to hear evidence in the case in which the city seeks to secure a better rate for natural gas from the Southern Counties Gas Company. The present rate for domestic service is $1.10 for the first 1000 cubic feet and $1 per 1000 afterward. It is said that nearby towns in Orange county have a much more favorable rate.

trict, to make of it the best western harbor for yachts and the finest seaside resort on the Pacific Coast; proper disposal of sewage and elimination of this objectionable feature along the ocean front; cheaper and better service for public utilities, such as fares, gas, light and water; unification of the county and city governments under one set of officials at less expense; the advantages to be gained from the Los Angeles public library, its building department, Chamber of Commerce and excellent school system.

Yesterday an appeal was spread broadcast in Santa Monica, coming from men who are heavy taxpayers there. It pointed out the advantages to be gained by annexation and was indorsed by a large number of Santa Monicans. It was signed by the following: F. E. Bundy, C. L. Bundy, Thomas C. Bundy, B. A. Nebeker, P. J. Dudley, A. R. Fraser, Carl F. Schader, Charles A. Tegner, Dr. J. S. Hunt, E. M. Hills, R. R. Tanner, W. J. Stadelman, T. F. Randolph, J. D. Kneen, J. C. Steele, Bert O. Bruce, L. Van Every, J. C. Urquhart, James Hunter, A. W. McPherson and W. J. Nichols.

Plans have been made to see that all those in favor of annexation go to the polls, say those in charge of that headquarters, while the antis are working hard along the same line.

A. R. Fraser, founder of Ocean Park, declares the Santa Monica territory should annex because it is the natural Los Angeles beach.

"I always have wanted to move our sewer system to Hyperion," said he, "so that we could advertise to the world that we had a sewerless beach. We also must have water fit to drink and to fight fires—something we do not have now. I predict that Ocean Park, cleaned up of its barrooms and gamblers, will become the greatest family resort in Southern California."

Col. M. H. Wager and M. Bunker of Ocean Park, realizing that they were getting water unfit to drink, as they say, found that Santa Monica, not having enough water, was running double shifts night and day, pumping water out of wells that had been condemned by former Health Officer Parker and by the State Board of Health. They report this water is being pumped into the new Irwin Heights reservoir and mixed with the Irwin Heights water, because Santa Monica has not enough of a good supply for the summer.

Declaring that annexation will result in Santa Monica becoming boneydry, Rev. W. H. Boyd and Rev. C. D. Hicks urged all temperance people to vote in favor of annexation at a meeting held at the Santa Monica City Hall last night. Fifty men and women pledged themselves to work for annexation today.

BIG SEND-OFF FOR SOLDIERS.

Plans will be Discussed at Meeting in Mayor's Office Today.

Plans for an enthusiastic send-off for the local troops when they leave for their training camp in September will be discussed at a meeting in Mayor Woodman's office at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It is likely there will be a big parade and other features planned for the celebration.

The Mayor expects to appoint a committee to take charge of the affair.

cil; that, so far as Los Angeles city and county is concerned, amounts to little.

Advocates of the national body argued that the position taken by the Pasadena union was not so much a matter of principle as unfriendliness to some members of the official family.

Judge Trippet suggested that some plan of agreement should be reached. He doubted whether he had any jurisdiction to interfere in what appeared to be a family quarrel.

A series of conferences ensued in the court chambers. William A. Spill represented the Pasadena union, No. 92, and W. F. Herron, Edward V. McKenzie, Hyman Lavin and A. L. O'Grady, the international body. Draft after draft of an agreement was made, only to be torn up. Finally Judge Trippet suggested that one more meeting be held in his chambers, and the stipulation, a victory for the Pasadena union, finally was signed.

Drafted Men Given Lessons in Military Work.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Everett Wellington Brooks, one of Pasadena's leading philanthropists and for whom Brookside Park was named, died yesterday afternoon at the age of 70 years. The end came peacefully after two weeks of illness.

In the last seven years Mrs. Brooks contributed to practically every charity in the city. The Brookside plunge was her gift. The Day Nursery, the nursery and social hall for negroes on the west side, La Bonita Mexican hand laundry, and other institutions of this sort owe something to her generosity.

Mrs. Brooks was a native of Boston. She went to Chicago, where she lived many years and was active in charitable work. Seven years ago she came to Pasadena and made her home at No. 1239 South El Molino avenue. During her residence here she became a familiar figure in the homes of the poor, as well as in the homes of those of her own circle.

Immediate relatives are a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ladd Gifford, and a grandson, Brooks Gifford. Mr. Gifford is on the way to Pasadena from Chicago and is expected to arrive Friday, when funeral arrangements will be made.

NEARLY READY.

Only thirty men more must be drafted to complete Pasadena's quota of 110. The drafted men reported at 7:30 o'clock last evening at the Wilson school for their first lesson in military matters. The drill arrangements were in charge of W. H. Reid. The men will meet each Tuesday and Thursday evening for practice until they are called away from Pasadena.

MISS FLEMING TO WED.

Miss Marjorie Fleming, daughter of Arthur H. Fleming, of this city, will be married next Saturday in New York to First Lieutenant Walton Lloyd Smith, U.S.R., son of Justice Walter Lloyd Smith of the Supreme Court of Elmira, N. Y. Lieut. Lloyd Smith is a New York man and was educated at Princeton and trained at Plattsburg. He has been assigned to Fort Ethan Allen in Vermont.

Miss Fleming has been at a private school at Dobbs' Ferry for three years, finishing with a year's study in the Boston Conservatory of Music. The wedding trip will be brief, as the bridegroom is ordered to report for duty August 28.

RECOVER ANOTHER BODY FROM LAKE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BIG BEAR VALLEY, Aug. 21.—The body of O. T. Beyer, the Rialto man drowned in the lake here last fall, which was found by W. E. Knickerbocker, caretaker at the dam, yesterday, was taken to Redlands in a motor truck last night, and from there it was shipped to Rialto. The bodies of three of the men drowned when their boat capsized have now been recovered, and it is hoped that the last body will soon be found.

Divers failed to find the bodies, so for several days the lake has been dynamited. The body of Beyer gave evidence of having been caught and held in some manner, probably by a fallen tree in the bottom of the lake.

SHOOT DUCKS TO PROTECT CROPS.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Aug. 21.—They are shooting wild ducks in the Imperial Valley by the hundreds to protect the corn. A Brawley rancher in town this morning stated that he had never seen so many ducks before in the history of the valley. Yesterday he killed twenty in two shots, and about sunrise today bagged a dozen. For some unexplained reason the east side on the high line is having a visitation of ducks that is equal commercially to the winter months, when they are always plentiful. In the early days of the valley ducks were so plentiful that they were a constant menace to crops and destroyed great quantities of corn and barley. Game laws were a dead letter because the farmer had to protect his crops, and the same is true now.

SOCIETY WOMEN TO DO THEIR SHARE.

USEFUL PLAN DECIDED ON AT ONTARIO AND UPLAND.

All Surplus Fruit and Vegetables will be Put up by the Domestic Science Department at Chaffey High School and Patrons will Advance Funds.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Aug. 21.—Society women of Ontario and Upland, members of the Women's National Council for Defense, are to do their bit toward the conservation of the nation's food supply in a concrete form, if a plan hit upon by Mrs. John Dawson Howe, chairman of the Upland chapter, proves as practicable as the first day's tryout would indicate.

The plan is to can all surplus fruit and vegetables which would otherwise go to waste, the finished product to be stored here and held for the call of the government. Should it develop later that this food is not needed by the government, it will be used for charitable purposes.

Largely through the efforts of Mrs. Howe, arrangements have been completed whereby the fruit and vegetables may be put up in the domestic science rooms of Chaffey High School and under the supervision of Miss Lillian Graves, head of the domestic science department.

Members of the local chapters of the Council for Defense are advancing the funds for the sugar and gas required in canning and sufficient of the finished product will be sold to defray all expenses.

The plan has been further worked out whereby housewives of Ontario and Upland may have the use of the Chaffey kitchens for canning fruit and vegetables for their own use by donating a certain percentage of the total to the cause.

As a starter, thirty-five women gathered yesterday at Chaffey to give the plan a tryout and something over forty quarts are reported to have been canned.

Tuesday and Friday mornings of each week at 8:30 o'clock a.m. have been fixed by the women in charge for carrying on the work. Mrs. Howe as chairman of the Upland chapter and Mrs. H. William Kendrick as chairman of the Ontario chapter have issued calls for donations of surplus fruit and vegetables, surplus jars, time and labor. The first response was a hearty one and the women in charge believe that many more will become interested in this plan of conserving the products of the soil which would otherwise go to waste.

Presence of Two Mules in Old Army Barracks in San Diego is not to be Allowed to Cause Sale of Liquor to be Stopped.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 21.—The saloons and cafes within half a mile of the old aviation barracks on Market street will not have to be closed on account of the government order prohibiting the sale of liquor within that distance of army cantonments and barracks. A ruling on the question was received from Washington this afternoon by Manager J. H. Holmes of the U. S. Grant Hotel. He states that the Department of Justice has wired explicit instructions to the United States District Attorney at Los Angeles that the barracks at Atlantic and H streets are not to be taken into consideration.

The half-mile zone would have included the Cuyamaca Club, Rudder's Cafe, the Palace Cafe and many other well-known places. The barracks are not now occupied by troops. On the property is a stable in which are two army mules. The cafe owners held that the two mules were not sufficient grounds for the prohibition of the sale of liquor in this zone.

PROBLEM FOR BOARD.

As Result of Killing of Father Bakersfield Man Who Didn't Ask Exemption Finds He has Five People Dependent Upon Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 21.—As the result of the fatal accident to C. C. Wellman yesterday a novel problem has been raised for exemption board No. 2 to solve. Wellman's son Chester was drafted, passed examination with flying colors and did not claim exemption and has been certified for service. Today he asked exemption as his father's death makes him the sole support of his mother, three minor children and a grandmother. The district board has been asked to reconsider his case. Floyd Wellman, his brother, is a volunteer in the United States Marines.

Mr. Wellman, a rancher who lived fourteen miles south of here, was killed when he and his wife were run down by R. A. Fremlin, a fruit grower of Fillmore, who was en route home in company with H. Walker of Fillmore. Fremlin was blinded by the light of an approaching car. He brought the victims to town and then surrendered to the Sheriff, who allowed him to proceed.

As Sheriff Newell was en route to the scene of this fatality he met another victim, Joseph Smith of Taft, an employee of the General Petroleum Company. He reported being hit by a man who did not stop. Officers were notified to watch for the offender and F. W. Farnsworth was arrested in Bakersfield unable to explain the damaged condition of his machine.

RAISE RATE OWING TO LICENSE LOSS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, Aug. 20.—That the amount of money necessary to finance the city government during the coming year will be approximately $32,000, is the decision of the Board of Trustees. The tax rate will therefore be $2 on the $100 of taxable property. The tax rate last year was $1.67. The increase is due to the fact that the city loses something like $760 a month revenue from wholesale and retail liquor licenses due to the recent election, which put Colton in the dry column.

Later on he was arraigned before United States Commissioner Hammack, and held in $1000 bond for his preliminary hearing next Tuesday.

It is alleged that Devinney, whose father is Mayor of Ripley, Tenn., has been engaged in the wholesale stealing of all sorts of goods, and that he belongs to a gang of thieves that has been robbing the Southern Pacific systematically for the past year or more.

WEED ORDINANCE TO BE REPEALED.

ENFORCEMENT COST EXCEEDS REVENUE SECURED.

Council's Finance Head Thinks it is Poor Policy to Keep Deficit-creating Measure in Effect—Ax Scheduled to Fall in Four Months. No Money for Soldiers.

The weed tax ordinance is to be repealed. This was unanimously determinated gy the committee of the whole of the City Council yesterday afternoon, when the question of transferring the collection of delinquent taxes from the City Clerk to the Board of Public Works was under discussion.

The statement was made that the collection of weed taxes and the enforcement of the ordinance is costing the city at least $4000 more than is derived through the measure. This did not rest well upon the mind of Chairman Mallard of the Finance Committee, and he made a motion for the repeal of the ordinance. As a result the City Attorney was instructed to prepare the repealing measure, which is scheduled to become effective January 1.

Money for Soldiers.

Announcement was made yesterday at a meeting of the Council that there are forty-eight former employees of the city who are in the United States Army, and who were promised that the city would pay them the difference between the amount they received and that paid by Uncle Sam. City Attorney Stephens stated that the Council has no legal right to carry out the promise, but it was stated that the matter may be adjusted through donations by public-spirited and patriotic citizens.

Action Postponed.

The Council committee of the whole yesterday postponed action for two weeks upon the request made by Luther G. Brown for an appropriation of $23,444 to carry on the work of the Home Gardens Committee. The Council members stated that they wanted more time to investigate the question.

To Prepare Ordinance.

An ordinance establishing a bureau of standards will be drafted at once. Such a measure is advocated by Mayor Woodman, who asserts that it will eliminate half a dozen needless jobs and save the city $8000 annually. President Conwell declared yesterday that, in addition to the saving of money, it will increase the efficiency of several departments at least 30 per cent.

JAIL PLAN MAY GO ON BALLOT.

As Way of Getting Money for a New Structure.

Councilmen Favor Action but Postpone Decision.

Police Chief will Meantime See Eastern Prisons.

How to provide the money for the erection of a new City Jail is the only stumbling block in the way of the proposed improvement. The Council yesterday, sitting as a committee of the whole, indicated it will work unanimously to carry out the suggestions made by Chief of Police Butler and action will be taken just as soon as the way is pointed out for financing the project.

City Attorney Stephens told the committee that the city cannot legally appropriate the money from any of its present funds and suggested that the only solution to the problem is to place the matter before the people at an election. As a result, Councilman Conrad made a motion that the question be voted upon at the earliest election, whether it be a special or general election. Other Councilmen were in favor of the motion but decided to defer action two weeks.

Chief Butler appeared before the committee and reiterated the suggestions made in his formal report on the subject. Asked if he had any suggestions as to where the proposed jail should be built, he said it ought to be in the vicinity of the Hall of Records; that maybe the Temple Block, now owned by the city, might be the proper place; and then, a location near the County Jail would not be objectionable.

ON LOS ANGELES STREET?

Councilman Mallard suggested that the site be selected on Los Angeles street, asserting that transportation to and from the institution then could be made without traveling through the congested districts. This plan, too, was approved by the Chief.

The Chief said the present structure was erected twenty years ago, when there were probably only 50,000 persons in the city and only seventy-five or one hundred members in the police department. He declared the efficiency of the patrolmen and other officers is decreased because of the inadequate structure.

Councilman Conrad said he would insist upon the erection of a building that will be sufficient to take care of offenders in a city of 1,500,000. He said there is no doubt that Los Angeles will become that large and he is against the policy formerly adhered to of erecting buildings that were adequate only for the time being.

LIQUOR QUESTION.

City Attorney Stephens raised the question whether there would be a decrease in crime should the city be voted "dry" and suggested that if such should be the case, it might not be necessary to erect a building as large as would be needed should Los Angeles remain in the "wet" column. Chief Butler said no doubt the elimination of the saloon would decrease the business at the police station, but unless there is a national prohibition law, there will always be a large number of "drunks," who will receive their booze from blind pigs, etc.

Councilman Reeves advocated a municipal farm within the city limits as one way to relieve conditions at the jail. He said he had viewed property owned by the city in Burbank and thought it could be used to advantage for municipal farm purposes.

Chief Butler expects to leave next week for a tour of the larger eastern cities and said that when he returns he will be able to submit a good report on up-to-date jails. As a result, the Council will take no definite action for the time being.

Man's Retort When Judge Proposes Armistice is Recalled When Wife Comes into Court and Gets Uncontested Decree, with Alimony and Custody of Children.

Mrs. Jennie I. Flynn came back yesterday. It appears that the Flynns had marital difficulties, which they proceeded to thresh out in court, some months ago, with the result that Judge Willis told them to go on home and quit quarreling. Whereupon Mr. Flynn made the remark:

"The only way there wouldn't be a quarrel would be for me to lie flat on my face on the floor and say nothing."

Yesterday Mrs. Flynn came into court and obtained an uncontested decree of divorce, the custody of her children and an order on Mr. Flynn for $50 a month. She told the court that Mr. Flynn neglected her and the children, and that the money they should have had went to pay the grocery bills of Mrs. John Ford.

Though Mr. Flynn did not oppose the suit, he was represented by an attorney with reference to the property settlement.
